(MEGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
NEW YORK, July 26.—A World dispatch from San Salvador says that troops have been hurriedly sent to Sonsonnate, as fighting began there Monday and still continues. The rebels have forced the garrison to abandon the town and go to Acajutla to prevent the landing of a revolutionary expedition. It is reported that troops at Santa lana threaten another rising if they are not paid immediately. An officer from Santa Tecla has held a long conference with the Minister of War and the President. It is said that he is an emissary of Gen. Rivas. and Citizens in Conflict.

publishes a long interview with Chauncey M. Depew, who, according to the Gazette, is talked of as the next Republican candidate for President. In this interview Depew discusses at length the British elections, the American opinion of home rule, the Monroe doctrine, taking the same grounds on all three questions as he did in the interview with the Associated Press representative when he landed at Southampton on the steamer Oarl on July 18.

Regarding bimetallism, Depew is quoted as saying that he believes the majority of the starquis of Salisbury's Cabinet is in sympathy on this subject with the views of Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfgur, the First Lord of the Treasury.

American Cable.) A correspondent in Gusyaquil, Ecuador, telegraphs that the press and citizens having demanded with great persistence the arrest of certain enemies of Gen. Alfaro's administration, the provisional President has been compelled to order the arrest of more than twenty leading men of the opposition, although contrary to his policy. The men arrested were conspiring to bring about a counter revolution, of which the former dictator, Ventemilla, was the leader.

Gen. Alfaro, accompanied by Gen. Plutarco Bowen, the hero of Babahoyo, has left Guayaquil with the first and third divisions of the army, numbering 2000 men. Each was enthusiastically cheered by citizens along the route. Gen. Alfaro will reache Chimbo day after tomorrow, and he will march from there rapidly toward Quito. Should the government of the interior offer any resistance, a bloody battle may be expected within five or six days.

The Corbett Case.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The hearing of the Corbett divorce case was resumed today before Referee Jacob. Jay H. Wilson, a member of the dramatic company of which the puglist was the star, testified that the woman known as Vera traveled with the company as Mrs. Corbett. He also swore that Corbett and Vera occupied the same rooms at the Burnett House, Cincinnati; Park Hotel, Madison, Wis., and a hotel at Lacrosse, Wis. This closed the case for the plaintiff. A motion by counsel for Corbett to dismiss the suit on the ground that the plaintiff's allegations had not been sustained by the evidence was overruled by the referee.

ANOTHER REPORT.

DENVER (Colo.,) July 26.—The News has the following from its correspondent at Market Lake, Idaho:

"M. J. Gray, L. M. Earl and Senator Hamer of Illinois and T. R. Hamer of St. Anthony, all left St. Anthony on Wednesday morning on a fishing trip to Jackson Hole, taking no stock in the Indian scare. Today they are back, and report every man, woman and child in Jackson Hole murdered.

One of the News couriers, just returned, got far into Teton Basin, which is the present point in danger of massacre, now that the Jackson Hole citizens are all butchered. He reports that the smoke of a large fire can today be seen several miles south of the Grand Teton in the direction of Jackson Hole. There is no doubt that the redskins have fired every home and cabin there, and by morning they will be repeating their work this side of Teton range in Teton Basin, and perhaps, after that, all down the Teton River Valley in Idaho.

Two hundred Utes were reported to have gone north to join the Indians in Hoback Basin early this week. Small parties of Lemhis has been slipping daily across the Conant trail, something they have not ventured to do since the Yellowstone National Park was enlarged in 1891.

People in St. Anthony, Rexburg and other towns located in Idaho between the railroad and Jackson Hole have been all along placing no credence in the "Indian scare," as they called it.

Richards today on the Indan troubles in the Jackson-Hole country. The report is made by wire from Market Lake, Idaho. The Adjutant-General arrived at Marysville on July 19, and on the next day had a conference with Agent Teeters of the Fort Hall reservation and about forty settlers of Jackson Hole. Capt. House conference with Agent Teeters of the Fort Hall reservation and about forty settlers of Jackson Hole. Capt. House of the Shoshone Indan police was also present. The conference between Teeters and the settlers was very unsatisfactory, and created bad feeling.

In an interview with a grievance committee consisting of four prominent residents of Jackson Hole on the 21st., the committee gave a détailed statement of the actions of the Indians for the past six years, as to how they had acted in a lawless way in the wanton destruction of the game in the country. These Indians belonged to the Bannock, Shoshone and Lemhi tribes. The settlers had finally determined to demand an observance of the law. The Indians had recently defied the constituted authorities and several had been killed. Some of the Indians who were arrested a short time ago had escaped after several had been killed. The agent at Fort Hall had given the settlers no satisfaction, and claimed that they had a right to hunt on the unoccupied lands of the government. The Adjutant-General says the recent wounding of Capt. Hall has aroused anew the slumbering excitement of the settlers, and may regult in another, conflict between the whites and Indians.

ON WALLER'S BEHALF.

GOV. MORRILL AGAIN APPEALS TO THE PRESIDENT.

The People of Kansas Feel That Great Outrage Has Been Perpetrated-The State Department is Awaiting Information.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
TOPEKA (Kan.,) July 26.—Gov. Morrill has addressed a letter to President Cleveland again calling attention of the Federal government to the imprisonment of John L. Waller by the French government. He says:
"The people of our State feel that a, great outrage has been perpetrated on one of its citizens. It is not a question of tage or color it is a question of of face or color, it is a question of American citizenship, and through me the people of our State appeal to you to take immediate measures to secure justice to our fellow-citizen. It is re-ported through the press that France has denied a respectful request on the part of the United States government to visit Mr. Waller and furnish a copy of the charges on which he is alleged to have been convicted."

WAITING FOR INFORMATION. WASHINGTON, July 26 .- The officials of the State Department are at cials of the State Department are at present anxiously awaiting information from Ambassador Eustis as to the manner in which the second demand for the record of the Waller courtmartial, which was held in Tamatave, has been received in France. It is now learned definitely that the French government refused to furnish the record on the first presentation of the request and that this refusal was met on the part of the State Department by a and that this refusal was met on the part of the State Department by a more positive and pressing demand for all the papers. The department is informed by Mr. Eustis that this demand has been presented. There has been quite sufficient time for an answer, but none has been received. The course of the French in their refusal to supply the record is most unusual and, as no explanation was vouchasfed, the department is at a loss to know on what ground it is based.

vouchasfed, the department is at a loss to know on what ground it is based.

The supposition is gaining ground that France's refusal to furnish the record is due to a desire not to give publicity to revelations made in the letters from Waller which were intercepted by the French authorities concerning the missonduct of some of the French soldiers. In letters which have been received here from Waller-within the last few days, he reveals the fact that in his letters to his wife he informed her of various outrages committed on the native women of Tamatave and gives such circumstantial account of these proceedings as to reflect on the French soldiery in Madagascar in a way which the French authorities might not desire to see published. There is good reason for believing that in case of a second refusal by France to supply the record, a third demand will be made and more peremptory.

The State Department authorities consider the case as one of importance, because it is liable to develop some very delicate and intricate questions before it shall be finally disposed of. It is known that Secretary Gresham took this view of it and it is believed that while he has not had occasion to go into details to the extent his predecessor did, Mr. Olney feels that it is a matter of gravity.

er, and with every avenue of escape cut off, four negro outlaws dashed into the ocean near Fort George last night and were drowned. The victims were Tudor Brown, Will Cook, Sam Echols and John Armstrong.

The men were desperate characters, who broke jail at Fernandina on Sunday night and hid in the scrub oak along the beach. Sheriff Higginbotham determined to hunt them down. The negroes were discovered on the beach, and, when called upon to surrender, refused. Then the bloodhounds were unlashed and the deputies closed in and began firing. The negroes stood as if dazed for a moment, and then rushed into the ocean. In the faint innonlight they were seen bobbing up and down on the waves, and then they disappeared.

Mrs. Quinlan Finds Her Tongue.

She Abetted Holmes in His Swindles.

Mrs. Connor Died in the "Castle."

J. L. Belknap's Story of How

The Williams Sisters and Their Property-Man Found Who Wrote the Policies for Pitzel's Life Insurance.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) CHICAGO, July 26.-Mrs. Patrick Quinlan lost her defiant spirit in the police inquisition today. Two days of "sweat-box" experience proved more than she would bear with equanimity and she told the police things which before had not been acknowledged. It has resulted in making the police more than ever suspicious of her husband and the part he took in the mysterious business of Holmes.

"Our evidence of today, secured from Mrs. Quinlan is highly important," said Chief Badenoch tonight. "She has con-fessed to abetting Holmes in his insurance swindles, and that is a step in the right direction. Pat Quinlan up to this hour firmly protests that he was a mere fairs at all.

"Mrs. Quinlan's evidence was that after Mrs. Connor disappeared, it became necessary for Holmes to produce her to collect some insurance. Mrs Quinlan consented to act in her place She went to an insurance office in Lasalle street, not yet located, and swore that she was Mrs. Connor and signed that name. I think she was wanted to attest in the collection of some fire insurance that was to be secured by fraud. This opens the way to other deals which it is necessary to know to fasten the guilt of many supposed mur-

Inspector Fitzpatrick located Quin-lan's child today. "Little Cora Quin-lan is safe and sound," he said, "at the lan's child today. "Little Cora Quinlan is safe and sound." he said, "at the home of the Johnsons, her grandparents near La Cota, Mich." Mrs. Quinlan is locked in a cell in the Harrison-street station tonight.

A man named Oscar W. Fay was also brought to light today who admitted that he wrote the policies for the insurance on the lives of Holmes and Pitzel. He admits very frankly that Holmes encouraged him to keep after Pitzel until he got his insurance written, saying that Pitzel might drop off at any time. Fay also knew Pat. Quinlan and Holmes also assured him that Quinlan was a man "to be trusted with any kind of a job and who would do it well and betray nothing."

According to the statements of J. L.
Belknap, it was Christmas night, four years and six months ago, that Mrs.
Connor was killed. He believes that she was asphyxiated in her room while she slept. Her room was the small one adjoining the dark bathroom in the "castle." When all was still in the house Holmes turned on the gas. When the deed was accomplished Holmes stealthily admitted himself through the secret door of the bathroom. He lifted steathily admitted himself through the secret door of the bathroom. He lifted the inanimate form of Mrs. Connor from the bed and carried it to the bathroom. Then, placing the body in the bathtub he proceeded to cut it to pieces and fed them to a fire in the stove, which was fired with fuel until it became a raging furnace. When all was which was fired with fuel until it became a raging furnace. When all was done he took the ashes and parts that had not been entirely burned and burled then in a mass of quicklime in the cellar.

Col. Belknap is an uncle of the father of the Willamette wife of Holmes. He resided for many years at Big Foot Prairie, Ill: He became acquainted with Holmes through his nephew's connection with him. When Holmes learned that Uncle Belknap was worth a considerable fortune he tried to swindle him out of it. He endeavored to obtain loans, and did get $100 in this way.

After escaping from Holmes's clutches Belknap went to New York State, and he now resides at Weston Mills, N. Y. Seeing the details of the crimes of which Holmes is accused in the newspapers, he wrote in several letters to friends in this city, asking that his information be transmitted to the police. These letters contain the statements that Belknap and his wife spent Christmas with Holmes and Mrs. Connor at the Sixty-third-street block; that he helped Holmes carry the now famous stove through the secret trap door to the bathroom adjoining Mrs. Connor's room. That night he claims Mrs. Connor disappeared, going to Omaha, it was said.

HOLMES'S ATTORNEY INTER-

HOLMES'S ATTORNEY INTER-VIEWED. PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—Lawyer William A. Shoemaker, who represents H. H. Holmes, made the suggestion to-

H. H. Holmes, made the suggestion today:

"Did it ever occur to you," he asked an Associated Press reporter, "that the Minnie Williams who was murdered by Theodore Durrant in San Francisco lest April was of about the same age as the Minnie Williams of this city; that she was not known in that city and had no relatives? Who knows but the Frisco Minnie Williams might be the missing girl? It is true that when the Williams girl left Holmes, she said she was going to Europe, but there is no positive knowledge even to him that she did go."

positive knowledge even to him that she did go."

Shoemaker was shown the story from Chicago to the effect that Janitor Quinlan was implicated in the case almost as deeply as Holmes; that Quinlan had kept a woman whose first name was Lizzie in the "castle" and that she had a sister working in the restaurant in the building; that a child was born and very mysteriously disappeared and that Quinlan's wife suddenly appeared on the scene and the girl Lizzie was 'hurried away and is now thought to be in Omaha. The story said besides that under instructions from Holmes in this city Quinlan had destroyed all letters, papers and clothing which might aid in the tracing of his career and that a confession was expected from Holmes involving Quinlan. Shoemaker declared the story was entirely new to him. So far as sending instructions to Quinlan was concerned, he said, Holmes, while in the City Hall here, had been permitted to send and receive mail, but since his confinement in prison he cannot do so without the sanction of the prison officials who read all the letters.

"The public mind has been better disabused of the idea that Holmes will make a confession," continued the attorney. "He has told all he has to tell and has nothing more to confess. He feels confident that he cannot be convicted of murder and just as confident that when the time comes it will be proved that the bodies found were used in insurance schemes only. The Chicago people have no case at all and have been merely cutting a ridiculous figure before the public. I know nothing of Holmes being tried here. The first official notice I would get would be indictment and so far as I know no steps in that direction have been taken."

Dist.-Atty. Graham also said today steps in that direction have been taken."

Dist.-Atty. Graham also said today that no decision had been reached regarding the place of the trial.

"The only diary I know of," said Shoemaker, "is on Holmes's person. It is kept by his wife, Mrs. Howard, in her own handwriting, and she is mistaken when she says he left her for several days. He was never away from her a whole day or a whole night. There is absolutely no truth in this story that Holmes is broken down. He is in good spirits, and is busy at present settling up his business affairs, turning his real estate into cash.

"Two weeks ago George B. Chamberlain, a Chicago lawyer, spent several hours here on behalf of parties in that city who desire to buy. The securities consist of farm lands, town lots and other properties in various parts of the city who desire to buy. The securities consist of farm lands, town lots and other properties in various parts of the country. He controls the 'castle' block in Chicago, besides the $40,000 property in Fort Worth, Tex. I saw this block last fall when I was down there on this case. Holmes built this block, he having obtained the ground by a trade of a Chicago property with Minnie Williams, who had inherited it from her father.

"Holmes did not know a Miss or Mrs. Connor in Chicago—I do not know which, because I never talked with him about such a case, Quinlan, I think, was the janitor in the 'castle' pretty much all the time Holmes was there. Quinlan's wife lived there in winter, and went to a farm in summer. Holmes is anxious that Quinlan, as well as everybody else, should tell the truth in the case, and conceal nothing.

"We expect Mrs. Howard to testify to the truth regardless of where it lies, and if she does, it will be in Holmes's favor. We are anxious to have her testify rather than to throw obstacles in the way, as has been said. I want it understood that he desires everybody to tell the truth."

"Is 'he setting the example?" was asked.

"Well, I have never known him to deceive me in anything. He thinks, and so do I, that a true statement of all the facts at the trial will be of the greatest assistance in proving his innocence."

A FOOL THEORY.

A FOOL THEORY.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—The theory of Lawyer Shoemaker of Philadelphia that the Minnie Williams supdelphia that the Minnie Williams supposed to have been murdered was the same Minnie Williams who met a tragic end in Emanuel Church here last April, is plainly out of joint. The Minnie Williams who was murdered here was a girl 19 years old, and had lived constantly in or near San Francisco for at least five years. Her father lives here now, and is one of the principal winesses against Theodore Durrant.

Miss Williams's father and mother were divorced some time ago, and her mother is now living in the East. There is no possible way in which the identity of the two murdered women can be joined, and the only thing that could suggest such an idea is the similarity in names.

A BLOODY RENCH

A BLOODY BENCH OHICAGO, July 26.—One of the important finds made by the police today portant finds made by the police today in search of the Holmes case was a bench covered with bloodstains. It was found in a deserted storeroom next to the apartment in which Pat Quinlan slept. It is believed that Holmes used the bench as an operating-table on which he dismembered his victims before disposing of their bodies.

EVIDENCE AGAINST QUINLAN.

CHICAGO, July 26.—A local paper prints the following today:

"Pat Quinlan, the jamitor of the Holmes castle, is in serious danger. He carried the thirty-seven keys which opened the various doors, secret and otherwise, to the chambers of Holmes's castle. He was the factotum of Holmes confesses, as it is expected he will, he will implicate Quinlan, and if Quinlan does confess he must implicate himself. Damaging evidence against Quinlan accumulated more rapidly in the past twenty-four hours than that against Holmes. Detective Norton was informed that early in the career of Quinlan with Holmes, the former kept at the 'castle' a girl whose first name was Lizzle. She had a sister working in the restaurant connected with the 'castle.' This Lizzle gave birth to a child which Holmes took care of. What became of it is unknown save to Holmes and Quinlan. The report spread about Sixty-third street that Quinlan was about to marry the girl. Suddenly his wife, who had not been living at the 'castle,' appeared on the scene. Lizzle was hurried out of the city, and it is said that she is now in Omaha. An effort will be made to find her.

"To Quinlan, it appears, were sent the orders from Philadelphia to destroy all of Holmes's papers, clothing and other articles which might aid the detectives in tracing his career. How faithfully Quinlan did this is to be seen in the little of Holmes's vault in the castle. When Georgia Yoke Holmes returned from the side of her husband in Philadelphia with a commission to secure certain valuable papers locked up in his vault, it was Pat Quinlan whom she got to assist her. Mrs. Ladd, a dressmaker living with Mrs. Kennedy on the second floor of a flat-building at Thirty-eight street and Vincennes avenue, went with Georgiana Holmes to get the documents from the vault."

AN ALLEGED VICTIM.

LAVAYETTE (Ind.,) July 26.—Emiline Cigrande, reported a victim of Holmes, is well known here. She went Holmes, is well known here. She went to Dwight, Ill., in 1891, where she was a stenographer. Later friends were informed by her that she was with the A. B. C. Copying Company on Sixty-third street, Chicago, and was soon to marry the manager, Robert E. Phelps. This marriage, according to cards read here, took place in December, 1892. Since then Lafayette friends have had no trace of her.

were under guard of two police officers. Chief Badenoch and Inspector Fitzpatrick both insist that the men are not under arrest, but it was noticed that extra precautions had been taken to prevent their escape, and also to keep anyone from conversing with them. Both men were nervous and ill at ease, and plainly showed that they are beginning to appreciate the position in which the recent developments in the case has placed them. Both have given the police new information, and while the officers admit that it is of importance they say it is of such nature that it cannot be made known at present. The two men will be questioned fürther today, and they will remain in custody until the police are satisfied that they have told all they know.

The human bones and other articles, including a gold watchehain identified by Jeweler Davis as one worn by Mianie Williams, found a few days ago in the stove in Holmes's office, No. 70! Sixty-third street, have been turned over to Detective Sergeant Fitzpatrick by Manager Gary of the Fidelity Insurance Company. In the box which was locked in the vault in Inspector Fitzpatrick's private office there are twelve or fifteen bones of a human skeleton. The company is the same that Holmes swindled out of $10,000 when he is supposed to have murdered Pitzel. In the stove were found also two dozen tintypes, but all traces of the operatits which they bore have been destroyed by fire. Several hooks and eyes, such as are used in women's clothes, were also found.

William Capps of the legal firm of Capps & Cantey of Fort Worth, Tex., is in Chicago, in the interest of the heirs of the Williams sisters. He has obtained copies of the deeds by which they transferred their property, and he claims that their names were forged. Evidence has been collected, he says, which will prove conclusively that the girls were murdered before July 12, the date appended to the deeds. He hinks they were put out of the way about July 4. He has been investigating the property at Williams each significant to many a w

Residents of that suburb are considerably aroused by a rumor that Mrs. Holmes is about to move away from Willamette. It was reported that a load of boxes had been carted away from the house about daybreak. Another rumor revives interest in the Wheeler tragedy that has never been rully explained. After the murder of Wheeler's mother-in-law, the burglars ran directly toward the Holmes residence, and that house is now connected with the murder of Mrs. Crow.

WELL-CONTESTED RACES.

Breeder's Meeting.

REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SACRAMENTO, July 26.—The race tomorrow afternoon will wind up the summer meeting of the Pacific Coast Trotting-horse Breeders' Association. It has been a grand success so far as bringing out a large number of fine horses and making numerous good records. The management of the association is composed of a number of gentiemen who are entitled to great praise for the manner in which the meetings have been conducted, which has been for the manner in which the meetings have been conducted, which has been honestly, squarely and with an eye single to the accomplishment of ends sought by the organization of the association. There have been no accusations of collusions with the pool-box, of false or improper starts, or improper rulings of judgments. There were three races on the card this afternonon, all well filled and hotly contested. tested.

The first race called was for the 2:25

The first race called was for the 2:25 class of troiters, for a purse of 31000. The starters were Silver Bee, Lady Thornhill, Stamboul Belle, Director Prince, Little Mac and McZeus. The first heat was taken by Stamboul Belle in 2:21. McZeus took the second heat, shutting out Little Mc and Silver Bee. The third and fourth heats and race were taken by McZeus, in 2:20½ and 2:21

The second event, the 2:30 pace, for all ages, was where all looked for surprises, and they did not look in vain, for it showed up a better heat than has been shown up on this Coast in a legitimate contest this year. The purse was a good one, $1000, and all the horses were "out for the stuff." It brought to the scratch eight starters, Welcome, Pathmont, Jarelin, Phenol, Ruby M., Primrose, Tout and Cory S. The first heat was taken by Phenol in 2:21½. When the horses came up to score for the second heat, the judge, H. M. Larue, called T. E. Keating, the driver of Pathmont, to the stand and said: "We don't think you drove for the last heat. If you lay back this time we will take you out of the sulky and fine you beside." The admonition had the desired effect. Keating sent Pathmore for the next heat and took it in the remarkably fast time of 2:14½. Jarelin took the fourth in 2:16. Pathmont took the fifth and sixth and the race in 2:19½ and 2:20.

There were five starters in the two-mile and repeat race, Bonnie Ben, Bijou, Pilot Lemont, Flora G. and Peter W. The last-named won in straight heats; time 4:51½ and 4:56.

His Contract Wife Made Him a Shirt and She Hoped That It

PASADENA, July 26.—(Regular Cor

espondence.) The developments in the ase of Frank E. Parlin, charged with rens of No. 1424 Franklin street is heart-broken. She was engaged to be married to F. E. Parlin of Pasadena, but she has learned that he is married already. When she learned first of Parlin's arrest at Pasadena for beating his wife she denied that she knew him, but afterward confessed that she once expected to become his wife. Indeed she had gone so far as to prepare her wedding trossueau. But the gown she intended to wear on the day she became a bride has been laid away now.

According to Miss Behrens's story Parlin was introduced to her in Oakland last October. She liked him and when he told her the old story of his good family connections back in Lakeport, that he had bright prospects and that some day he would be a rich man, she promised to marry him. Then, having gained her consent, young Parlin wrote a pleasant letter to the marriage. This was secured No date was a few for battery, and suspected of bigamy, are of a very interesting character. It ap-pears, in spite of Metta (or Melta) Behme's—of Hayward and Oakland claims that she knows nothing of Par-lin, less than a week ago he received a loving letter from her, in which she calls herself his wife. It appears from the correspondence that Miss Behme was married to Parlin by contract terval she has been employed at Kel-ler's store as a seamstress, living at the Young Woman's Christian Association Home. Her letters show her to be a pure and refined woman, with an affec-tionate nature, whose trust in her recreant lover survived many rebuffs and disappointments. It appears, too, that Parlin himself informs Melta's parents of his contract marriage with their daughter, and that he wrote Judge Lucas and other of her friends of his a pleasant letter to the girl's father, asking his consent to the marriage. This was secured. No date was fixed for the wedding.

At that time Parlin was a telegraph operator in San Francisco. Everything seemed to point to an early wedding. One day Miss Metta found a package of letters, which Parlin had carelessly dropped during one of his visits. She read those letters and learned that she was not the first love of her betrothed. In fact, she learned that he had been married in the East, and that his wife was dead. She also learned that he had a child in Helena, Mont. He had declared that he was only 30 years old, but the letters showed that he was past 37. relations with her. Then it appears that they agreed to be married in the regular way, and the date was set for July 19. All of this time Parlin was livregular way, and the date was set for July 19. All of this time Parlin was living a double life. He was married in April to the present Mrs. Parlin, and the Oakland young lady was kept in complete ignorance of the affair. On July 11, the Oakland girl wrote Parlin a letter, in which she says that she sends accompanying it a white shirt, of which she has made every stitch herself, out of hours, of the best materials, and hopes the garment will fit, and if it does not she will change it when she comes down. Her sewing is all finished, and she expects him to appear in July 19 to marry her in the regulation way. Letters from his mother in Lake City, Minn., indicate that Parlin had been in durance vile, and that through her untiring exertions he has been released. She reproaches him for his neglect of her, and his penchant for girls and getting into trouble through them. She even says that she will "bring Lulu Sholett down upon him," If he does not keep straight, and try to lead an honorable life. The Oakland lady evidently merits the sympathy of the public, but so much cannot be said for the Pasadena victim, Mary Thobbean, the Orange Grove avenue servant-girl, who, though she claims to have been lured past 37.

The next time Parlin called, he had a real pleasant time. He was asked all about the statements contained in the letters. His explanations were lame. He admitted that he had not told his prospective wife all the secrets of his life. He had an oily tongue, however, and he managed to make the best of an awkward situation. Miss Metta forgave him, and again the current of their love ran smoothly. The wedding day was fixed for June 16 last. Meantime Parlin lost his position as an operator, and he concluded to go south. He informed his sweetheart that he would return in time to keep his wedding engagement, and, after the marriage, they would make their home in the South.

Parlin, after his arrival in his new Orange Grove avenue servant-girl, who, though she claims to have been lured into the affair, nevertheless knew that matriage, they would make their home in the South.

Parlin, after his arrival in his new home, kept up a correspondence with Miss Behrens, assuring her of his undying devotion. He wrote that he was studying medicine and that he was making great progress. As a matter of fact, it is said that he was a motorman on an electric street-car line. Miss Behrens says his letters to her were couched in most loving terms and he always signed them, "Your leving hus band." into the analy, nevertheless, and requited the man was married, and requited wife's kindness to her with rank gratitude, and at the same time volved herself in the unsavory management of the same time. volved herself in the unsavory mess which has been revealed by the filing of the charge of battery by Mrs. Parlin. Advices from Oakland state that Parlin is well known to the police of that city; that he has more than once been in the tolls of the law. It is stated that he is familiar with the inside of a jail, and that he served time in Oakland for steaing bicycles and pawning them.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—(Special Dispatch.) F. E. Parlin, who is in jai at Pasadena, has an Oakland record that a Bluebeard might envy. The convicted of bigamy and sent to San Quentin for two years and nine months. After his release last fall he returned to Oakland. He could not re-gain his lost friends, and came here and found work on the Mission-street electric line. Several months ago he lost his position and drifted to Southern California.

The history of the man has been traced back to 1882 by an Oaklander, at that time for the Western Union Telegraph Company in Boston. He had a wife then, but deserted her. She was No. 1, and obtained. a divorce Next he had a matrimonial venture with a Lake City (Minn.) young woman, a musician of local reputation. She died in Montana of a broken heart from Parlin's desertion. No. 3 was a Miss Boyle of San Francisco. At that Miss Boyle of San Francisco. At that time Parlin was working in West Oak-land. He told Miss Boyle that he earned $100 a month, while his wages really amounted to $60. They married and she bore him a child, which was born about the time the charges of bigamy, larceny and incendiarism hung over him.

He deserted her to take up wife No A, who was Bertha Arps, a worthy young woman now living in West Oak-land. He married her in San Jose, just a year after the wedding to Miss Boyle and a few months before her child was born. Parlin and his new wife re-mained in San Jose for a short time and then returned to Oakland, still keeping secret their marriage. On June 8 the Arps residence was burned. Two days later Parlin was arrested for stealing hose, which he sold to a second-hand dealer. When arrested he was riding a bicycle which he had stolen from a dealer. When arrested he was riding a bicycle which he had stolen from a commission merchant.

On the same day an old lady rescued from the burning house, Mrs. Schneider, gave damaging evidence to the police which connected Parlin with the fire. On the same eventful day, too, Mrs. Arps first learned of her daughter's marriage. Parlin posed as Dr. Parker. An inquiry was set on foot and it was soon discovered that the man was an adventurer and had no diploma to practice as a physician and that he had married Miss. Arps merely for her money. He was arrested and it was learned that on the night of the fire he had called at the house. The door was closed on him, but he got in and had a long argument with his wife. Finally he tried to drag her out of the house. She escaped him and he left, vowing vengeance. Four hours later the house was in fiames.

The man's history was traced now, and his wife.

He found her. Meta Behrens, the fifth victim of Parlin, was seen tonight. "I had no idea what a base villain Frank was," she said, "until this after Desperado Brady Cantured-A Box Laugenour Missing-"Father" Gray Dies Suddenly.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTA SAN QUENTIN, July 26.-William M Fredericks, the murderer of half a dozen men, was hanged this morning for killing W. A. Herrick, cashier of a branch of the San Francisco Savings Union.

Last night he retired at 11:30 o'clock, leaving word to be called at 1 o'clock. At 1 o'clock he rose and prayed for two hours. He slept from 3 to 5 o'clock, and from 5 to 9 o'clock devoted himself to his prayer book. Last night he tried buy him a suitable tombstone, and grey indignant when he was offered $20. Since then he has refused to talk to any one but the death watch, and only

At 5 o'clock this morning he attired himself with great care in the neat black suit which had been provided for him, and, after instructing the gate guard that he wished to remain in peace for the remainder of his time on earth, sat down in a rocker in his shirt-sleeves and slippers in the lightest corner of his cell, and read his prayer book. When visited by a reporter at 2 o'clock he was still poring over its pages. When addressed he slowly raised his eyes in a mute, pleading way, but, while his lips moved, he did not speak. He moved his head slowly from side to side in a dazed, hopeless way, and dropped his eyes to his book again. His face was deathly pale, and he seemed almost fainting.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Fredericks's spiritual adviser arrived from San Rafael. He went immediately to his cell and remained until his devotions were interrupted by the entrance of Warden Hale at 9:55 o'clock. He informed Fredericks that the hour of his execution had come. "I am ready," was all he said, and he stood leaning against the cell while the death warrant was read. Then the march to the scanfold was commenced. Warden Hale and Prison Chaplain Drahm led the way, followed by the two priests in their robes. Fredericks walked behind them, half-supported by Amos Lunt, the hangman. He walked firmly up the twelve steps and took his place on the trap without a tremor.

Warden Hale raised his hand, and a hush fell over the 120 spectators who had gathered in front of the gallows. "Gentlemen, Mr. Fredericks wishes to say half-a-dozen words." he announced: "Please keep as quiet as possible."

Fredericks surveyed the crowd caliniy and said in his broken English: "Gentlemen, I forgive everybody, as I hope to be forgiven'—his voice was without a tremorks he had carefully prepared, and looked at the ceiling in a perplexed sort of way while trying to recall them—and I can assure you that I do not entertain any hard feelings toward any living mortal." Again he paused and laughed like a confused schoolboy who had forgotten his speech.

While serving a term in the penitentiary at Folsom he conspired with a number of other desperadoes to lead a jail-break. At the expiration of his sentence Fredericks smuggled a number of weapons into the prison and is the outbreak that followed three convicts were killed. A few months later Fredericks killed a brakeman in Nevada county, who attempted to put him off a freight train, and when Sheriff Pascoe tried to capture him Fredericks killed him. After he was convicted and sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Cashler Herrick, Fredericks feigned insanity, but a few weeks ago he gave up hope of a commutation of sentence and since then had discussed his fate stoically.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

SALT LAKE (Utah.) July 26.—A special to the Tribune from Butte, Mont., says that, according to a story told to the City Marshal by August Barrenstein, a young German, William M. Fredericks, who was hanged in California today, was living in Butte from August, 1893, to January, 1894, and was the murderer of three Chinamen, who were found butchered and robbed in their cabin near this city on September 30, and also committed a number of daring highway robberies in Butte about the same time. Barrenstein says that he roomed with Fredericks, who, at that time, went by the name of William Berrigan, and the murderer frequently related incidents of his career and boasted of his crimes to him, but threatened to kill the young man if he eyer betrayed him, and Barrenstein was so much afraid of him that he kept the secret until he knew Fredericks could not escape the gallows.

Fredericks told Barrenstein that he belonged to the Chris Evans band of outlaws in California, and had murdered a sheriff and brakeman in that State, and came to Montana to escape the officers. After leaving Butte, Fredericks committed a highway robbery in Sait Lake and wrote his young German friend an account of it. Barrenstein has a photograph of Fredericks which he took from his pockets, and it leaves no doubt that Berrigan and Fredericks were one and the same.

Brady was captured at 4:30 o'clock this morning while hiding under a bridge near Courtland. He had a shot-gun stolen from the Wells-Fargo measenger in the train-robbery near Wheatland, when Sheriff Bogard was killed. He is now in a cell at the County Jail here.

THE BANDIT'S YARNS.

SACRAMENTO, July 26.—The cap-ture of Jack Brady, bandit, murderer ture of Jack Brady, bandit, murderer, and farmer's boy, near Sacramento, naturally created quite a sensation in Sacramento, and large crowds of people were in and about Sheriff Johnson's office all afternoon, hoping for a chance to see the notorious criminal. But few persons had their desires gratified, however, for after Detective Thacker of the Wells-Fargo Company appeared upon't he scene, he put a stop to any further free exhibition. If he had permitted it, Brady would have spun off yard after yard of stories about himself, for he is considerable of an egotist. Yet he tells his tales in such a matter-of-fact way that a person cannot put him up as a braggart.

The local police officers and the way that a person cannot put him up as a braggart.

The local police officers and the skilled detectives of the railroad company and the express company are considerably chagrined over the fact that the train-robber for whom they have been hunting for months has spent several days in this city and in Stockton at various times.

ceal days in this city and in Stockton at various times.

"How do you do, Mr. Thacker?" he said to the well-known detective as that gentleman stepped into the Sheriff's office this afternoon.

"How do you know my name?" asked Thacker.

"Oh, I was in a saloon near the corner of Third and K streets in this city a few weeks ago when you came in. Some one remarked, "There's Thacker," and I ducked out of there."

Brady says he lodged here for a week and was in Stockton about three weeks. Near the latter place he bought a horse and cart with the intention of leaving the country. At the time he had over $300, and now regrets that he did not board a train and ride out. He feels confident no one would have recognized him.

board a train and ride out. He feels confident no one would have recognized him.

His capture, which was made by Deputy Sheriff McDonald and William A. Johnston, under a bridge near Franklin, in this county, was an easy one. They got the "drop" on Brady with their guns, while he was hiding under a bridge, and he had to surrender. Yesterday he was driven by hunger into the little town of Freeport, and the officers were notified. Detective William Ahern of the railroad service, who has been on Brady's trail for several weeks, is given much credit for the fact that he notified the local officials a few days ago by telegraph to be on the lookout for him. Ahern was close upon him when he stole a horse from George Ditsler, near Biggs. Brady had worked in that neighborhood, and knew just where to get a horse and what one to take.

The story of his wanderings up and down the Sacramento Valley and his fight with the Shasta-county officers is a thrilling one. He says the officers who fired upon him sear Cottonwood wounded him in the side, He did not shoot at them at all, he says. His gun was accidentally discharged by being caught in some brush and they ran away.

"I could have winged them," he said, was accidentally discharged by being caught in some brush and they ran away.

"I could have winged them," he said, "but I thought I would let them go."

With respect to the identification of Brady with Browning at Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, and the murder of Stagg some time ago, Brady declared that that was all wrong, for he was not with Browning at the time alleged. He did not deny acquaintanceship with the dead bandit Browning and rattled off admissions as to his whereabouts from time to time. He insisted, however, that he had nothing to do with the train-robbery. He asserted that he fell out with Browning several days before the robbery. The detectives, however, declare that they have traced Brady's footsteps and that they will have a complete case against him.

Brady is an undersized man and has an effeminate voice. He is far from the dime-novel idea of a desperado. He looks so insignificant now that almostany man would not hesitate to meet him upon any sort of fighting proposition.

spoke up Dist. Atty. Ryan, "why did you make such desperate efforts to get out of the country, going armed and shooting at everybody who approached you?"

"Because," replied Brady, "it looked like they had a dead case against me. On the night the train was robbed I was in Sacramento. I had a falling out with my partner the day before. We rented wheels in San Francisco and came up here. I know that they think they have a sure case against me, and feel sure that they intend to convict me."

Brady admits that it was a foolish thing on his part to go into the little town of Freeport, but he said that hunger had made him desperate.

"Why didn't you eat fruit?" some asked him.

"My God." he exclaimed, "I have eaten nothing but peaches for days, and instead of satisfying my hunger, they only seemed to whet it until it became so keen that I grew ravenous."

When Brady was arrested he had in his possession a sawed-off shotgun of the pattern usually carried by express messengers. It was the identical gunwhich had been stolen from the express messengers. It was the identical gunwhich had been stolen from the express train, which was held up near Lodi, a few nights before the train-robbery in Yubia county. It will prove one of the strong links in the chain of circumstantial evidence to convict Brady. The gun was today identified by the Wells-Fargo officials as belonging to the express company. Brady will probably be taken to Marysville, near which city the murder of Sheriff Bogard took place, tomorrow night.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—A suit which has for its object the abolishment of the Sunset Irrigation District will be filed in the name of Atty.-Gem. Fitsgerald in the Superior Court of Fresno county within the next two or three days. The Sunset Irrigation District, composed of Fresno and Kings counties, is the largest in the State, according to acreage, and one of the most important from a financial point of view.

provements which, it is alleged, have been contracted for, but have not been made according to plans and specifications. It is also asserted in the complaint that the original articles of incorporation are fraudulent; that representations of residence and citizenship were made without authority in law, and that the very basis of organization was conceived and executed in fraud.

In support of the petition the plaintiffs cite the granting of an injunction against the Tax Collector of Fresno county to prevent the collection by law of assessments against land to pay interest on certain bonds issued by order of the board of trustees, a body which the complaint in question alleges is unlawful and without authority. At the last meeting of the board of trustees of the district all contracts which had not been ratified were rescinded, and all obligations previously entered into were declared void for the same reasons that are set forth in the petition.

The matter of this suit is one that involves the ownership of more land than any other irrigation district organized under the Wright law. The territory of the district embraces 318,000 acres, and covers a large portion of the counties of Fresno and Kings. The complaint, as signed by the Attorney-General, goes on to say; "It is further shown by a profile map of the district that a large portion of the land is impossible of irrigation by any plans proposed or embraced in the specifications, because it lies higher than any point from which water is to be drawn."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—H. C. Watkins, the uncle of Henry W. Laugenour, the missing Assemblyman of Woodland, is convinced that the young man has gone East with the $10,000 which he drew at the Bank of California on Saturday.

"Laugenour is a clean, high-spirited man, and his character, otherwise without blemish, has only one weak spot," said Watkins. "He canot face adversity, When it arrives he turns and runs. He could not bear to have the people of Woodland know that he was a financial failure, and he has taken the money and left his troubles behind him. "This is not the first time that he has acted in this manner. Three or four years ago, as now, he left his wife and children, but twenty-four hours later he telegraphed to her for money and came back. This time he has funds, but he will not remain long away, for he is a good husband and is devoted to his two little children. I feel most sorry for his mother, my sister, for he has left her to bear all of the financial worry by his actions."

It is believed that Laugenour is in Sait Lake City, where he is said to have friends and relatives.

SAN FRANCISCO, "July 26.—Alfred Isson was granted a divorce from Clara Isson severalsmonths ago on the ground of infidelity. Testimony was adduced during the trial to the effect that George Stierien, a handsome young fellow with a hypnotic eye, was responsible for most of the trouble in the Isson family. Isson has concluded that Stierien should have Mrs. Isson, but he wants him to pay something for her affections, or rather to reimburse him for the affections has sent in a bill for $30,000. Stierien of course scoffed at the bill.

Not Prepared to Face an Influx of New Students.
OAKLAND, July 26.—The failure of the regents of the University to provide adequate accommodations for the students at the coming term at their last meeting, promises to throw the institution into confusion. The professors and instructors are looking forward to the opening of the school with some anxiety as a great influx of new students is expected. These, together with the old students, will more than fill every class-room in the buildings. The whole trouble originated in a desire of the regents to keep the expenditures of the institution within its revenues. Rather than face a deficit they have preferred to let matters stand and retrench in the supplies furnished. The regents had in contemplation many important improvements connected with the buildings. They have concluded that it would be unwise to deliberately vote appropriations at the beginning of the term sufficient to bring about the very deficit they dread. Therefore the improvements will be put over another year.

WRECKED ON AN ISLAND.

Startling Appeal Found in a Bottle at Encinitas.
(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN DIEGO, July 26.-Late tonight word was received from Encinitas, twenty miles north of here, that a beer bottle had been picked up on the beach in which was a rag bearing the following:
"Men on island near Catalina. For God's sake come for us. We were wrecked on July 3, from the Snow and Burgess.

(Signed) "GEORGE ADRE."

The Snow and Burgess is a bark owned in San Francisco.

PRONOUNCED A "FAKE." SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—The Merchants' Exchange says that the re-Burgess, near Santa Catalina Island, on July 3, is untrue. The bark left Port Townsend for Sydney, N.S.W., in April, and arrived at its destination on July 12.

Railroad Filings on California Lands Sustained Despite Miners.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Bad news was received by the State Miners' Association today. All of their pro-lests against railroad filings on land including the celebrated list No. 54, have been dismissed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. List No. 54 covers over 200,000 acres in Placer, El-lorado, Sacramento, Nevada and Slerra counties, to which the Central Pacific Railroad had made claim as agricul-

Raliroad had made claim as agricultural lands.

The miners assert that these lands are within a well-defined mineral belt, and are, therefore, reserved for public entry under the United States mining laws. The General Land Office raises the techincal objection that each of the forty acres in the list is not described as to its mineral or agricultural character. A special meeting of the Miners' Association has been called for tomorrow.

"FATHER" GRAY DEAD."

The Old Man Who Fought the Sal vation Army's Battles.

REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—"Fath san Francisco, July 26.— Father er" Samuel Gray, the old man who fought the legal battle for the Salvation Army in Victoria, B. C., died suddenly in the Rescue Home in Fruitfale. He was a well-known character in Salvation Army circles. He was a rich was in Victoria.

man in Victoria.

A 16w years ago war was waged on the Salvation Army in Victoria, and the organization had a very hard time to carry on the legal battle. Gray finally came to the resoue of the organization, and spent a large sum of money to carry on the contest before the courts. The result was that the Salvation Army was enabled to become firmly established in Victoria. The residers in the army thereafter referred to the rich man as "Father Gray," and by that name he has been known to all the members on the Pacific Coast.

Had No Interest.

SAN JOSE, July 26.—This afternoon Judge Reynolds decided the case of Susan Clark, as administratrix of the estate of John W. Kirk, deceased, against T. and S. Kirk, in favor of the defendants. Kirk died in 1865, leaving a supposed interest in land near San Jose, valued at $500,000. The judge found there was no partnership between the three brothers, and, therefore, John W. had no interest in the property. property.

A Publisher Arreated.

SAN JOSE, July 26.—George F. Degleman, publisher of the Weekly Gasette, was arrested this afternoon on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Attorney H. A. Babriel. Degleman was released on $2000 bonds to appear on August 7. The article was published August 20, and, although only initials were given, the attorney, who is a married man, believes that he is the party referred to as improperly conducting himself with married women.

HUENEME, July 26.—A young man named Harvey, for the past few months employed here as a typewriter, falled to appear at the office this morning. One shoe and his pocketbook have just been found on the beach near here. He is believed to have been drowned while bathing. He was very quiet, and little was known about him. His people are said to live in Fresno.

Fair's Personal Property.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—The administrators of the estate of the late Senator Fair have made affidavits that the personal property of the estate in California is worth only $3000. The assessor has included railroad bonds and assessed the estate at $1,900,000. The executors are John W. Mackay and Richard V. Dey.

Ins Coolbrith Dying.

OAKLAND, July 28.—Ina Donna Coolbrith, who is known to magazine readers in America and England as a writer of short poems, is dying at her home in this city. She was stricken with peritonitis a few days ago and the physicians say that her case is now hopeless.

SAN JOSE, July 26.—Jane Leman, an aged woman and the mother of four children, was this afternoon committed to Agnews asylum, on complaint of her husband. She became insane through attending spiritualistic meetings.

In fact, of the talesmen examined during the day the two who gave the most intelligent answers and seemed best-suited to a trial of a case of so much importance were the two men accepted by both sides and sworn to sit in judgment.

Today the defense exhausted but one of its peremptory challenges. It has nineteen more. The prosecution should not exhaust any, so it has ten to come. That means that the selecting of a jury may take ten court days instead of five, if the right sort of men do not appear. Of fifteen examined, two jurors were accepted, and they may be challenged, by the defense later on. The main question of the prosecution to jurors is: "Would you convict a man and inflict the death penalty on circumstantial evidence?" The defense's questions are based upon the juror's familiarity with the newspaper comments upon Durrant and the crime for which he is accused. Almost all the jurors summoned have formed impressions which will require strong evidence to remove.

which will require strong evidence to remove.

It is apparent that the defense will make a hard fight on technicalities, and will take advantage of every loophole. Counsel for the prisoner lay traps for the judge, with the apparent purpose of leading him into a wrong ruling, which may form the basis of an appeal to a higher court. The number of well-dressed women at the trial increases at every session of the court.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—It is evident that the defense in the Durrant case will take advantage of every technicality. They objected to the entire jury panel because the minutes were defective as to the meeting of the Superior Judges when the list of 3600 jurors was selected. Presiding Judge Sanderson testified today as to the proceeding at the meeting of the Judges. Then Judge Murphy overruled the defendant's objection and the attempt to obtain jurors began.

A Fort Smith (Ark.) dispatch says that "Cherokee Bill" got his hands on another revolver yesterday and used it in an attempt to liberate prisoners confined in murderers row of the United States jail. His attempt was a bold one and resulted in the death of Larry Keating, the oldest guard on the force. The murdered guard was very popular and many threats of lynching have been made, though the citizens are becoming cooler.

A New York dispatch says that Recorder Goff summoned the grand jury before him yesterday and delivered a charge upon the logilisence of Sherif Tamben in permitting the escape from the Ludlow-street jail of three postofice robbers, Allen, Russell and Killoran. CUDAHY PACKING COMPANY. When a branch factory of this large Eastern packing-house was established in Los Angeles some two years ago there were not a few people of pessimistic tendencies who quietly shook their head and doubted its expediency. Two years is but a short time to give a great commercial industry an opportunity of satisfactorily determining whether its Imas hair-nours chat today with a Immes reporter Resident Manager Roberts gave expression to some few facts that will be of interest to every inhabitant of Los Angeles having the welfare of the city at heart. The company at its works in this city is slaughtering at the present time 175 hogs a day. Mr. Roberts says the meat is of the very highest quality. It is barley-fed pork and he claims that it makes superior meat to corn-fed pork. It is less conducive to fat but a careful comparison with the Western corn-fed product shows that it makes a sweeter pork and of firmer consistency. Again, owing to the encouraging efforts of the company, the farmers are producing a better breed of hogs, better adapted to sweet pickled meats and more profitable to the raiser.

A point to be noted in this connection is that all the sweet pickled meats put up by this company here are selling as cheaply in Los Angeles as the same grade of goods is selling in any of the Eastern markets. When it comes to fresh pork Los Angeles is largely underselling all the Eastern markets east of Pittsburgh. In New York fresh pork is selling today in jobbing lots at from 13 to 13½ cents a pound, while here finds a pound.

In beef cattle the company is slaughtering at present an average of from thirty to thirty-five head of cattle a day. Last week they purchased 200 head. These are used exclusively for canning purposes. This canning business is a new feature of the works here; in fact, it was only introduced a couple of months ago. Prior to that all canned meats sold in Southern California of the Cudahy make were manufactured in Omaha. The San Francisco cannedmeat men looked over the field here and figured out that they could sell their goods here cheaper than the Cudahy Company could sell its Omaha manufactured to manufacture their canned goods for this market right here in Los Angeles. That is what they are doing now and the result is the San Francisco man and his canned meats of the highest grade and doing it as cheaply as it is done in Omaha, Kañs the middle of next month, August. Their payments for live stock, all raised in this section, average $1,000,000 a year, while in addition to that the pay-roll in Los Angeles is $6000 a month, all of which is expended and circulated in Southern California. The present daily force is one hundred and twenty men, and the business for this month (July) up to the present time shows an increase of nearly 35 per cent. over the corresponding month of last year.

THE APRICOT MARKET. The published statements of The Times in reference to the apricot market are confirmed in all directions. The Commercial Bulletin (Los Angeles,) speaking on present conditions will say tomorrow:

turn by means of the rails, as is usually the case with the overhead trolley. This is claimed to be a distinct feature and one of the great advantages of the new system. Each conductor forms one side of the working circuit. The current is fed into the positive conductor and returns over the other or negative conductor. The current merely rises on one side of the plow, passes through the controllers into the motors and, after performing its duty, returns by the other side to the opposite or negative conductor.

Experiments made of this new system are said to be so thoroughly satisfactory that, in view of the strong determination not to admit the overhead trolley, it is believed it will be generally adopted. It has been connected with the great cable-traction system of the Metropolitan Traction Company of New York so that now passengers can go from the Battery at the foot of Broadway to 146th street with only one transfer.

TINPLATE. This is an article that Southern California is each succeeding year becoming more in need of. With canned fruits, canned meats, and other preserved articles manufactured here, the consumption of tinplate is getting enormous. The American Manufacturer in a late issue says that never in the history of manufactures in any country has there been such a development of an industry as in the manufacture of tinplate in the United States. At the present time all the tinplate used in Southern California comes here in the form of manufactured cans from Omaha and San Francisco.

Grain and Produce.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CHICAGO, July 26.—Owing to an unexpected firmness in Liverpool, the wheat market here started at an advance of from \(^{4}6\) \(^{4}6\) c every esterday's closing. There was an early break on the circulation of an extract of an article in the Cincinnati Price Current. Indications from the day's receipts of wheat at primary markets, compared with those of the year before, were as builtsh as ever. The export clearances at the Atlantic seaports were small. Spot wheat in Liverpool was 1d higher at the opening, an indication of present scarcity, although so much is being said of the heavy shipments from Russia and elsewhere. A St. Louis dispatch said that three mills had shut down there on account of the poor demand for four. The closing cables were generally lower, doubtless because of a decline here this morning, but they had's reflex action on prices, and the early weakness continued until September got down to 89\(^{4}6\). It closed at 89\(^{4}6\), a decline of \(^{4}6\) for the day. Corn was weak, and, although September declined about \(^{4}6\), per bushel, trade was not very brisk. September opened at 43\(^{4}4\), as against 43\(^{4}6\), at loss of \(^{4}6\) con the day. Oats were fairly active in the early part of the session, but closed quiet at a loss of \(^{4}6\). Provisions were lifeless and heavy. Pork, compared with yesterday's close, is 7\(^{4}6\) lower, lard and ribs 2\(^{4}6\) cach. Grain and Produce.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston July 26.—The Commercial Bulletin says that the demand for wool has been less, in comparison with past phenomenal activity, but the sales are more nearly confined to consumers. Speculation being less of a feature, prices are firm, but the opinion is that advances have culminated, for the time at least. The features of the week were the big sales of Territory wool and the sharp call for Australian, which has swept the market almost clean. Domestic fleece wools are very strong and not in large offering and, with pulled wools, show the greatest firmness, better prices being obtained for both in some instances. The sales of the week are 3,725,500 pounds of domestic and 2,691,000 pounds of foreign as against 4,650,000 pounds of domestic and 2,691,000 pounds of foreign wool for the same week last year. The sales to date show an increase of 13,464,389 pounds c domestic and 36,505,600 pounds of foreign wool from the sales to the same date in 1894. The receipts to date show an increase of 14,836 bales of domestic and 136,929 bales of foreign wool.

Beginning with tomorrow (Sunday) The Times will publish a series of letters from its favorite correspondent, Frank G. Carpenter, entitled, "Tales of Government Crime, or How Uncle Sam is Robbed." This series will give the details of the great crimes which have been committed and are being committed against the government The material for the exposures is being gathered from the great departments at Washington. The chief officers of the government have thrown open their records for this purpose and the result is a mass of story and adventure which is interesting in the extreme. The first of the articles will deal with the Treasury Department, in which Uncle Sam has today more than $800,000,000 worth of gold and silver, of bonds and bank notes, and through which the money flows in and "There are forty free schools in this city, attended by upward of 11,000 pupils. Wheelmen should preserve the roadmaps published in the bicycle department of The Times from time to time. Benjamin Harrison has not yet said to the Republican party, in so many words: "Your candidate I cannot be." It is not necessary that he should say so. There is no doubt that he would accept the nomination for the Presidency if he could get it. But there's the rub. He can't get it.

The story told by the girl, who is scarcely 20 years of age, is that she came to Los Angeles from Connecticut a few years ago, being then a green country girl and ignorant of the ways of the wicked world. She obtained employment as a dining-room girl at the Corfu Hotel, and there formed the acquaintance of young Orr, who seemed to take a fancy to her, and by his protestations of love soon had her in his power. He proposed matrimony, but said his income was too small to support a wife. He suggested, however, that they should get married secretly and each keep on working and saving until they were prosperous enough to let their friends know they were married and set up keeping house.

Yielding to his importunities, she consented to the secret marriage, and on or about June 5, 1833, this was effected. She insisted on having the ceremony performed by an Episcopal elergyman. He said he know one in Pasadena, so he hired a buggy and took her there one evening, where the nuptial knot was tied, she says, by a minister named Smith, who has since removed to the East. The report stated that the little three-year-old daughter of Marion Millar, a rancher, living about three miles from Asusa, while playing with matches, set her clothes aftre and was burned to death. The father of the child is alleged to have been asleep at the time, and did not hear the little one's cries. Ex-Councilmen Wirsching and Rees, who are members of a citizens' committee, appointed to solicit subscriptions for a bonus for the railway proposed to be laid on Brooklyn avenue and on to Whittier, report fairly favorable progress. The proposed railway, as announced in The Times about six weeks ago, is to be built by Eastern capital, on condition of the receipt of a bonus amounting to $75,000. This amount is not to go toward the building of the road, but is to be kept by the company operating the line as a

The line is to penetrate three or four large ranches lying east of the city, and it is said the establishment of the proposed railway would result in the parts of these ranches lying near the road being divided up into small tracts, which would make desirable homes. The two gentlemen above named say that, although they have had fair success in getting subscriptions, yet the property-owners who would be benefited by the road should not delay adding their names to the list if they really want the road established.

Mrs. Jennie Riley Took a Shot at Prof. Thomas O. Bannon, Inflicting Only a Trifling Wound-His Chicken Breast Saved Him.

About 12:30 o'clock this morning, Mrs Jennie Riley, a colored woman, shot Prof. Thomas O. Bannon, a colored musician, inflicting only a slight wour but frightening the professor badly.

Bannon and the woman were in a room in the Abbott House on North Main street, and quarreled over a money matter involving the small sum of 15 cents. Mrs. Riley says Bannon called her a name that she will take from "no nigger." This made her so dog revolver lying on a table in the angry that she seized a 44-calibre bulldog revolver lying on a table in the room and blazed away at the professor.

She fired only one shot, the ball striking Bannon in the right breast, going just deep enough to strike the breastbone, and glancing off, lodging in the

The colored warbler fell to the floor and cried lustliy, "Help!" and "Murder!" Officer Dixon and a crowd of people were soon on the scene, and Mrs.
Riley was disarmed and placed under arrest. Bannon was sent to the Receiving Hospital, where his wound was dressed. He could hardly believe that he was not more seriously hurt.

Mrs. Riley, who is a woman of shady reputation, the police say, acknowledges the shooting, and makes no excuse for it, except that Bannon called her a disrespectful name.

Bannon is one of the company of negroes who sang in the "Sunny South" performance at the Burbank Theater last week. He has also been singing at Y.M.C.A. entertainments, and is one of the quartette that sings at Santa Monica on Sundays. He has what is called a "chicken breat;" that is, his breast bone protrudes very prominently.
This is probably what saved his life, for the bullet glanced off when it struck the bone.

San Diego boasts of 1200 dogs, three

If San Diego falls to vote a special school tax of $36,000 on July 29, it is feared that it will be necessary to close the city schools next January for want of funds to maintain them

There is a good deal to interest Redlands just now—Judge Ross's late decision relating to irrigation districts, the Southern Pacific's proposed new route, the proposed new Standard Telephone service, and the dog-tax license.

The total assessment in Orange county, as given in The Times this morning by school districts, shows up remarkably well for our youthful but vigorous neighbor. The increase does not indicate that the taxes now are more of a hardship on the populace than last year, but rather the increase in the value of realty in almost every portion of the county.

The Supervisors are gradually be-stirring themselves on the question of an improved elevator service in the Courthouse. One plan that has been discussed is to put in an additional ele-vator on the other side of the staircase, and to turn the present dark shaft into an open iron cage. The improvement is sorely needed, and a universal hope is expressed that it will speedily be put

The value of the water works now under way in San Diego county is esti-mated at $6,700,000. The systems are di-vided as follows: Mt. Tecarte, $3,000,000 Escondido, $350,000; Flume Company improvements, $250,000; Samday ditch, $300,000; Sweetwater system improvements, $250,000; Colorado River system $2,500,000; Oceanside system, $100,000. To this might be added the Linda Vista district, in which $1,000,000 of bonds have been voted and $150,000 issued.

The maddening rush and roar, and the general unrest of these closing days of the nineteenth century seem to be producing a general upheaval in so-ciety. Divorces grow almost as numerous as marriages, and are brought for causes almost as trivial as the reasons for which the majority of people see fit to plunge headlong into matrimony. A glance at the court records gives rise to some doubt as to just whither all this light assumption and shaking-off of the most sacred bonds is likely to-lead the men and women of the present day.

for a moment on the corner of Third and Broadway, he is struck with astonishment at the things he sees around him. On one corner is the stately Bradbury Block, diagonally across the not-yet-complete Byrne building. Then he notices the excavators at work on the next lot, and just beyond, the new Boston store, a hive of busy workmen. As he looks along Third he sees the new Stimson Block, the Currier Block, and another building scross from it, just beginning its upward growth. And all of these are ar tecturally a credit to the city. To fill the scene the throngs of laborers laying the track of the Storrs electric railroad. Things are humming!

It is entirely proper to call attention to the fact that several instances gross carelessness on the part of the City Council have occurred in the re cent past. The failure to include the cost of heating the new school building may be styled a $20,000 error. The leas of a police station in Boyle Heights out investigating the proposition which action was yesterday retracted after The Times had called attention to the matter,) may be labeled an error of indefinite magnitude. Lastly, the very loose arrangement entered into yester-day with the City Water Company, upon a question of great importance to the city, which completes a trinity of mistakes, to call them by no harsher name.

TOLD ITS WOES The Turtle Bewails Its Many Sore

The reporter was sitting in a retired spot in the Chamber of Commerce Hall when he heard a strange, soft scratching under his chair. It was the turtle.

when he heard a strange, soft scratching under his chair. It was the turtle. The ungainly creature thrust out its head until all the wrinkles in its snaky neck were smoothed out. It fixed its small black eyes full oh the reporter, and it spoke.

"I believe I am one of the worst abused turtles that ever lived." It mournfully swayed its head from side to side. "Torn from my home and friends, exposed to the insolent gaze of the unteeling multitude, —" and the poor creature choked with emotion. "I know the power of the press, I know its readiness to help the unhappy, I have resolved to free my mind. My name is Arizona, I am a land turtle born in the sandy wastes of the Mojave Desert. I was kidnaped at an early age and brought to Los Angeles, a captive exile. I would be happy here, for the Chamber of Commerce is a pleasant place, and I am very well cared for, were it not for the visitors. I am not as light of foot as I once was, and I need frequent rest in my journeys about the hall, and little girls kick me, to make me walk for their amusement. And yesterday a boy poured ice-water on the back of my neck, ice-water on the shell entirely out of sight, for a small boy came suddenly from behind a near-by pillar. He lingered for some minutes, tapped the turtle's back-reflectively, and then wandered on.

Slowly, and cautiously the turtle opened up a gain. "Go on!" said the reporter, sympathisingly. "No," answered the turtle, "the subject is too painful. Ugh! Let's talk of something else. Did you see those Early Crawford peaches G. N. Kenyon of Ventura contributed today? Everybody talks about how fine they are, but as for me, I'd rather have one nice, fresh lettuce leaf, than all the peaches in California."

MUSICAL MENTION.

That ever-popular and tuneful opera, "Pinafore," was given with much success at the Los Angeles Theater last evening for the soldiers' monument fund. The audience, though not immense, was appreciative, and the encores were frequent and hearty. Mrs. Jessie Padgham Conant made a charmand vivacious Josephine, and sang even better than she did last year, when she was heard in the same part. In "Refrain, Audacious Tar," her voice blended delightfully with that of F. W. Huntley, as Ralph Rackstraw, and the audience enthusiastically insisted upon a repetition. Mr. Huntley made an ardent lover and sang his part with much spirit. Dr. Ludwig Semler, as the gallant captain, was often encored. His best work was done in the duet with Dick Deadeye, the "Merry Maiden and the Tar," which was delightfully sung. George D. Dalton was a distinct success as Dick Deadeye, and possessing as he does, a true and musical voice, it is to be regretted that the part does not admit more solo work for him. Miss Bernice Holmes, as Buttercup, was totally unrecognizable, in her unattractive make-up, but her voice was as rich and pleasing as it always is. W. K. Mathews was probably induced to take the part of Sir Joseph Porter on account of his shape, and he certainly made a very handsome first lord of the admiralty. Dick Sullivan, though only the sergeant of marines, was simply inimitable in the small scope permitted him, and presented a gorgeous appearance, blasing "With soarlet, as to coat, muttonchops, hair and nose. Miss E. Benson as Hebe, Tom Tucker as the mid-shipmite, F. C. Miller as Bob Breckett, the carpenter's mate, and C. Cook, as Bill Bobstay, the boatswain's mate, all filled their parts creditably. The chorus, especially the male part of it, is especially to be commended for its good work. The performance will be repeated this afternoon and evening.

SANTA MONICA, July 28.—(To the Editor of The Times:) About a week ago I began a fruitless search among "the Chicago contingent" summering at the Areadia here, for those prominent denizens of the Windy City, who, about that time, wrote their views of The Times and its editor for the Los Angeles Express, hinged upon the Horr-Harvey debate, and signed their alleged letter, "Edward Gaddis," "J. G. Higgins" and "L. B. Farwell." They must be men of unusual acu-

They must be men of unusual acumen, else the few days of a summer visit had not so thoroughly acquainted them with The Times and its policy through months and years past—unless (probability extraordinary) they are at home, regular subscribers and readers of the paper.

As a matter of fact, however, the Express correspondents are nil. They do not exist. The individuals are not at the Arcadia now, and have never been there—not for a day. There are "ear marks" upon the letter they wrote (7), but not Chicago "ear marks." The letter was an exhibition of spleen, which carried an identity not to be hidden under nom de plumes with a Chicago label.

The Much-wanted Document.

The search for the will of the late Dr. Den was reported yesterday to be as yet unsuccessful. A gentleman who saw the deceased on the day previous to that on which his death is supposed to have occurred, states that on that occasion Dr. Den made some remark about having a certain provision added to his will. He said nothing further about the document or its contents, but this remark of his has led to the belief that he had a will at the time.
If this be the case, then it is more than likely that the will was still in existence at the time of his death.

What seems at a cursory glance s rather loose arrangement was consummatted yesterday by the Council with the City Water Company concesning the repair of the fire-hydrants in the city. The report of the City Auditor was completed yesterday, upon the esti-mates of expenses filed with him by the various departments of the city govvarious departments of the city gov ernment. By an action of the Board of Public Works, at its meeting yesterday, the question of compelling the street railway company to pave a portion of Fifth street was reopened.

At the Courthouse yesterday the Wong Wing trial was still the center of attraction, although conducted along much the same lines as the trial of Wong Chuey. Much interest was felt in the examination of the insane Chinese girl, and the scene in the court-room was dramatic as she told her story with wild vehemence and denounced the Chinamen around her. Blanton Duncan's motion for a new trial was denied by Judge York.

CITY COUNCIL.

Queer Disposal of the Fire Hydrant Question.

The City Council met in adjourned ssion yesterday afternoon to receive report of the special committee or new school buildings, and also to take action upon the informal proposals made to various Councilmen by the City Water Company anent the the City Water Company anent the much-discussed fire-hydrant proposi-

President Teed called the attention of the Council to the matter of the Boyle Heights police station, recently referred to the Council by the Board of Police Commissioners. It appearing that the Council made the mistake of judging the communication from the dation in the matter, when it was simply intended to be referred to that dation in the matter, when it was simply intended to be referred to that body, the matter was referred to the Finance Committee for investigation, this committee to confer with the Police Commission upon the subject.

The report of the special committee on new school buildings, as printed in The Times of yesterday, was received and adopted by the Council. The report simply recommended the acceptance of the lowest bids for the work on the school buildings, that bids for the heating of the buildings be readvertised for, as well as bids for the new buildings, the floor plans of which have just been submitted to the committee. This report was adopted by the Council, and the clerk was instructed to notify the successful bidders to file their bond for the proper completion of the work with the City Attorney. The contractors will be allowed five days time in which to begin their labor. In the matter of blackboards the committee made no recommendation, simply submitting to the Council the samples offered.

Prof. Foshay recommended to the Council the acceptance of the hyloplate blackboard, at 18% cents per foot, offered by C. F. Webber & Co. Hoon Council the acceptance of the hyloplate blackboard, at 18½ cents per foot, offered by C. F. Webber & Co. Upon this recommendation the Council accepted the offer of Mr. Weber.

This matter disposed of, President Teed asked if there was any new business to come before the Council.

Coucilman Snyder then arose from his seat, saying: "Mr. President, there are some informal propositions from the City Water Company to this Council which I think should be considered at this time."

"Informal propositions," repeated the president while a slight frown gathered upon his classic brow. "If the City Water Company has any proposition to make to this Council it knows how to go about it. "Information" rhows how to go about it. 'Informal' propositions don't go!"

"I presume," said Councilman Snyder, in reply, "that the company through its representative is willing to make its proposals in a formal manner."

Ex-City Attorney McFarland, who make its proposals in a formal manner."

Ex-City Attorney McFarland, who was present in the lobby of the Council chamber, was invited to address the Council upon the matter, it being understood that he acted as an attorney for the water company.

Mr. McFarland, in his remarks, simply reiterated the propositions, which have been published and freely commented on for the past several days. A desultory discussion of the matter followed, in which the attorney answered the numerous questions of the suspicious Councilmen, who were prone to see some well-concealed scheme hidden beneath the fair exterior of the company's proposals. "I know," said the ex-City Attorney, "that people believe the water company to be a rather smooth sort of citizen. I used to think so myself, but—"

At this juncture of the attorney's statement the unfeeling Councilmen induged in immoderate and excessive laughter, which completely spoiled the climax of Mr. McFarland's fairy story.

One portion of the attorney's remarks may be considered quite significant.

"We do not consider," said Mr. McFarland, "that the repairing of these fire hydrants comes at all within' the scope of our contract with the city. We do not think we could be compelled to, repair them. But we understand that if a configaration was to occur in the city and these hydrants were discovered to be incapable of usage, the City Water Company would receive the odium of the whole affair. We prefer to suffer what we consider an imposition rather than to incur such a result." Councilman Munson finally conoceted what proved to result as the action of the Council in the matter, this being the acceptance of the water company's offer to repair at once all of the defective fire hydrants which are being used for sprinkling, John Drain, to make an accurate investigation of the number of fire hydrants which are being used for sprinkling purposes, with their location and report the same to the Council. The city will then for six months receive from the water company the sum of $50 per month, a Artoney McFarland declares that the tork of repairing the hydrants was ommenced on Thursday, and will consule without interruption until it is completed. City Attorney Dunn does of approve of the action of the Countil, as he considers it unbusiness-like and rather undignified in that no formal autrast has been made between the

to the city charter.

It is estimated that the taxes for the coming year will amount to at least $580,093. The revenue obtained from other sources, as estimated by the Audi-tor, will be $188,000, making a total rev-enue in sight of $768,093.98. This, subenue in sight of $768,093,98. This, subtracted from the estimate of expenses presented, will leave a deficit of $221,-484.62. It is thought, however, that the revenue to the city from miscellaneous sources has been under-estimated by the Auditor, which will make a difference in the city's favor. This report will be submitted to the Council, when the Board of Equalization shall have finished its labors.

COUNCILMAN TEED.

His Strange Remarks Upon the Pe lice Commissioners.

Two weeks ago, when some interest was aroused by the resignation of Po-lice Commissioner Guy Barham, The Times published a statement made by President Teed of the City Council anent Mr. Barham's resignation. It was declared by Mr. Teed in answer to the question of a Times reporter, that the action of the Council in tabling the resignation of Mr. Barham was not to resignation of air. Salawas very pos-be considered final, as it was very pos-sible that further resignations might follow, and it was even hinted by the Commission might be discharged in a body.

President Teed yesterday reiterated his statement of a few weeks ago, and predicted that the resignation of Police Commissioner Weber would be given the same treatment as was accorded the resignation of Commissioner Barham a few weeks ago.

None of the Councilmen can be induced to express an opinion upon the subject, but it is probable that the request of the City Ministerial Union, asking the Council to force the Police Commission to remove the cribs from Alameda street will reopen the old sore, and perhaps sever the strained relations existing between the Council and the Police Commission.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THE COURTS. Sick and Terrorised Chine

Woman Goes Mad. A more pathetic sight could hardly be found than was poor little Sing How, the Chinese insane girl, at her examina-tion yesterday before Judge Shaw.

The girl appears to be uncommonly intelligent and sprightly for a Chinese woman, and even her unbalanced brain acts more readily and vividiy than nine-tenths of the wax puppets who wear the tunic and wide trousers of the Chinese bells. Sing How whose wear the tunic and wide trousers of the Chinese belle. Sing How, whose real name was afterwards discovered to be Chen Sue Chung, was brought into court by Deputy Sheriff McMullen, whom she accompanied unresistingly, after a close examination of his badge had satisfied her as to his authority. She took her seat quietly enough, curiously scanning the faces around her, and remained passive until Dr. Brainard sat down beside her, when she began an active voyage of discovery through his pockets, finally alighting on his gold watch, which she dragged forth in triumph and promptly opened. She showed signs of distress when the Chinese witnesses entered, and violently rebelled when she was questioned by the intrepreter, Chang Que Sing. When an aged and villainous-looking celestial, gaudily attired in a pea-gren shirt and trousers of faded purple, was brought forward and introduced as her husband, she hastily vacated her seat, and, running around the table, ensconced herself in the judge's chair at the opposite side.

Chang questioned Wong Pao Si, the old Chinaman who claimed her, and two other witnesses, extracting from them a some what involved and contradic-Chinese belle. Sing How, whos

Chang questioned Wong Pao Si, the old Chinaman who claimed her, and two other witnesses, extracting from them a some what involved and contradictory story concerning the unfortunate woman. Wong Pao Si at first stated that Chen Sue Chung was his wife, and afterward that she was the wife of a friend of his who had gone to China, leaving her in his care. This mythical husband had been gone for six or seven years, and Wong Pao Si had brought the girl from Salt Lake City to San Bernarding, whence they had lately come to Los Angeles that she might be under the care of a white doctor.

The girl is afflicted with a painful ulcer on her foot, and is rather deaf. She has been treated by Chinese physicians, but in vain. Eight months ago she was put under the charge of Dr. Morrison, and it was to his office she had wandered when arrested by Officer Richardson.

The benevolent old duck in the green

acket insisted that she was no slave, out a sick lady for whom he was caring Chen Sue Chung had shown signs of chen Sue Chung had shown sighs of agitation and distress throughout this examination, and finally broke out into a wild appeal. She violently resented being questioned by Chang, and pro-ceeded to denounce the whole Chinese ceeded to denounce the whole Chinese outfit with a dramatic fervor and vividness of pantomime expression that was startling. Little English was hers, but what she lacked in speech she made up in gesture, and her story was told by the flexible hands quite as much as the stammering tongue.

Including all the Chinese witnesses with a sweep of her hand, she shrieked:
"Too muchee no good! Too muchee no good! Me no likee! You go hell!" then, turning to the white people around her, she gave her long braid of hair a turning to the white people around her, she gave her long braid of hair a quick fling, and emphatically repeated "Too muchee no good!" thus expressing her dread and dislike of all wearers of the pig-tail. Again springing into violent action, she screamed, pointing to the group of Chinese: "Me no likee! Too muchee —" and, quick as lightning, grasped her slender throat with both hands, imitating strangulation, and, in rapid changes of the same expressive pantomime, drew the edge of her hand razor-like across her neck; stabbed her breast with an imaginary dagger; imitated the drawing, cocking and aiming of a pistol; fettered her wrists with imaginary manacles, and, again pointing to the group of Chinamen, repeated with passionate emphasis: "To muchee. All go hell!"

This was startling, and polated pretty ing to the group of Chinamen, repeated with passionate emphasis: "To muchee. All go hell!"

This was startling, and polated pretty conclusively at the treatment she had probably been threatened with.

By order of the court the room was cleared of all Chinamen, and she was questioned by Joseph Sanders, a white man who has lived in China, and has come down from San Francisco to act as interpreter in the Wong Wing case. She answered him more quietly, and, upon his assuring her that he was a member of the Quong Chung clan, and her friend, she eagerly implored him to ask the white people to take care of her and to keep her out of Chinatown.

Then her strange delusion came into play. She insisted that she was a Spanish princess, and that her father was an Emperor, who would behead and hang all of these Chinamen who beat, abused and threatened her. She said that her husband was the King of England, and that she had been kidnaped when a child and kept in captivity.

Her strange ideas are attributed to visits of the Daughters of the King, who go about among the Chinese women, and her phrases of royalty are probably taken from hearing stories and songs from them. She was committed to Highland, where she can be properly cared for.

mounted in gold, and attached to the watch once worn by the old grandee, that formed the bone of contention between Alfredo Pico, administrator of the old Governor's property, and Senora Josquina Pico de Moreno, daughter of Pio Pico. The chain was one worn by the old man, and was a gift from this daughter. After his death, she claimed it again, but Alfredo Pico disputed her possession, of the poor old keepsake, and procured an order to show cause. Judge York discharged the order, and awarded the chain to Senora Moreno.

A Blow at the Evil Eye. The case of B. Duncan vs. the Times-Mirror Company received a quencher yesterday in the shape of a denial of the yesterday in the shape of a denial of the motion for a new trial. It is small wonder that the denial was made, considering the extraordinary wad of crasy patchwork Judge York was obliged to wade through in reviewing the motion. A huge mass of printed and type-written matter; pages of newspaper clippings pasted upon brown wrappingpaper; pages of type-writing, erased and corrected until the inner meaning was hard to arrive at; bundles of involved legality that no human intelligence could reduce to order and clearness; all this formed a mass of paper fully two inches thick at the binding, and constituted the little motion of the Kentucky colonel.

All Chinese Witnesses.

Very little progress was made yester-day in the Wong Wing case, which takes on more and more the character of a foundation for the defense of Wong Chee.

of a foundation for the derense of Wong Chee.

The witnesses were mainly Chinese, and they did some gallant swearing on the alibi question, making only the trifling mistake of filling Mrs. Chee's room too full. The number of visitors to her apartments on that particular evening has been four up to date, but yesterday the quartette became a quintette, for a fifth celestial who passed the evening with Mrs. Chee for the express purpose of being absent from the murder of Lue Suey, was discovered, and gave a lucid account of the pleasant evening spent in the charming society of Mrs. Chee.

No new developments occurred in the case.

A CHINESE VICTORY.

Result Not Yet Favorable to Japan, John Thinks.

China has won a big victory and has whipped Japan.

That is the information that is being disseminated through Chinatown by means of numerous posters and through the Mongolian newspapers. The supposed correct tidings are received by the Celestials with great manifestations of glee, and to see the Chinamen crowding about the posters containing such news, chattering, laughing and joking is an interesting sight.

containing such news, cattering, laughing and joking is an interesting sight.

To be sure the news has been a long time coming, but John is not much of a man to hurry things by the use of the telegraph and other diventions which he believes are the work of the devil. He did not know about it before and so the story is just as new to him as it was to the devilish white man who read it in the great moral journals of civilization months ago.

Try to tell the Chinaman that Japan has come out the victor! You might as well try to tell the "steenth" ward. Councilman that he stands no show of being the next Mayor. No such news will do for John, and the way he chuckles over what he thinks is a victory for his native country would lead one to believe that he really has a little patriotism.

The best route to Cahuenga Valley is out Seventh street beyond Westlake Park. There are several ways to get to Westlake Park, so that would be the best point for the start.

Beyond the park a quarter of a mile or more the road turns to the right and passes through a bed of bitumen, and then with a bend to the left becomes Sixth street.

Sixth street.

After keeping straight ahead out West Sixth street a mile or more a good stiff hill is reached. Beyond this hill there is a four corners and a sign board there calls attention to the turn to the right as the way to Cahuenga Pass. Then through a hig grain field, the whealtider comes into the valley, and the road becomes a boulevard, with the old motor railroad running parallel. Several miles of the boulevard is passed over before the Sunset boulevard is reached. The road to Colegrove runs also at right angles to this hard, smooth, shady road beside the railroad right-or-way.

The Sunset boulevard would be cansiderably improved by sprinking, but is a fairly good road even at present.

To reach the pass Cahuenga avenue is followed, leaving the boulevard at Hollywood.

fiour will be sustained and about three hours allowed to make the trip each way. As the distance is only about twenty-six miles, this will leave ample lime for the boys to take in the scenery and make, occasional stops.

A hearty invitation is extended to all wheelmen, who are looking for a pleasant Sunday ride, to join the club. A dip in "Old Ocean" from Terminal Island will be in order after the dinner, which is to be a "Wheelmen's Special." The start will be made from the club rooms on Chestnut street between Pasadena and Downey avenues at 8 a.m. On the way a short stop will be made at the Athletic Club to Pick up West Side boys.

The Roamers' Road Club will have a run tomorrow to Fullerton, starting from 427 South Spring street at 7:30. At Fullerton the club will meet the Orange County Wheelmen of Santa Ana, under command of Copt. Henry Bundy.

The Sunday run of the Los Angeles Road Club will be to Santa Monica and the South Sides will probably ride to the Beach too.

A BICYCLE DRAMA.

The Unique Entertainment to be Given Next Week. The Santa Rosa Wheelmen have organized a stock company, for the purpose of building a three-lap bicycle track, and work is to be started at once.

This city will not be far behind them, as the benefit to be given at the Los Angeles Theater, for four nights commencing July 31, is to form the nucleus of a fund to build a three-lap track in our city, for the use of the wheelmen of Los Angeles. An original melodrama entitled "Around the World on Wheels," is to be presented on this occasion, cast to the best strength of local-amateur talent. Santa Rosa Wheelmen have orcasion, cast to the best strength of local amateur talent.

Entirely new scenery has been painted for the production, and some of the effects are said to be wonderful. During the second act twenty-five of the principal wheelmen of the city will appear in the "Santa Monica Road Race," and all the exciting events of that race will be again presented.

A wager is laid that the hero cannot make a tour around the world on a bicycle, in a stated period of time. The audience sees him make the start in Los Angeles and can accompany him an his trip to the various interesting places he visits.

The following members of the Athletic Club have volunteered their services for the athletic Iste in the fifth act: E. D. Chapman, chair-leaping and high-kicking; Louis Nordlinger, and Gus Herget, three-round sparring match; Frank Scott and Charles Foote, tumbling and fancy hand balancing; Clarence Whistler, Jr., and Young Bibby, wrestling.

In the great Santa Monica race scene, which will be introduced in the second act, the following well-known local wheelmen will ride: Lacy, Griffin, McAleer, Jenkins, Hatton, Burke, Tompkins, Long, Stephenson, Miller, Slater and others.

Secretary Logan informs The Times that entry blanks and the prize list for the annual Admission-day races will be ready by August 5, and that the prizes will be finer than Riverside has ever before offered.

Special features, including tandem pacing, will be introduced on September 9, and the Riverside Wheelmen may ask the League of American Wheelmen to allow them to make that the Southern California division annual meet for 1895.

The game promises to be close and exciting as the baseball boys have indulged in a large amount of practice in the English game, while the Englishmen themselves are, of course, expert in the game. The game will be called at 2.p.m. The English eleven is made up of the following players:

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

The members of the Shakespeare Club were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. R. H. F. Variel at her pleasant home on Michigan avenue. A charming informal programme was rendered. Miss Josephine Williams and Mrs. George Freeman gave recitations, Mrs. Lottle Willard sang several Scotch songs and the club sang "Auld Lang Syne." Much amusement was found in a lesson in observation; the guests filed past a table, upon which were placed sixty articles, and then made a list of the articles they could remember. Mrs. Enderlein won the first prize, Mmes. Threlkeld and Streckewald equally deserved the second and third respectively; Mrs. Wineburgh won the fourth. Mrs. Variel was assisted by Miss Variel and Miss Estelle Barstow of Napa. Those present were: Mmes Bradley, Boyce, Baxter, Enderlein, Furrey, Freeman, Galpin, Gibson, Little, Mathiason, Streckewald, Steers, St. George, Threlkeld, Wineburgh, Willard, Wyman, Ward, the Misses Baldwin, Barstow, Parker, Streckewald, Willams and Wyman.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB. SHAKESPEARE CLUR.

The Shakespeare Club met as usual Tuesday morning. The morning was devoted to the study of the first three acts of the third part of "Henry VI." Considerable time was spent in the discussion of Margaret and of Lady Grey. The questions which were distributed gave rise to such an abundance of thought that the morning was gone before they could all be answered.

The last meeting of the club will be

The last meeting of the club will be next Tuesday morning, and upon invitation will be held at the home of Mrs. Gafpin on Loomis street. The remainder of the play of "Henry VI" is the lesson assigned, and a most delightful day is anticipated. A special request was made to hunt up all the proverbs to be found in this play.

There is some high-grade work being done at the University of Call-fornia in the preparation of educational books. Prof. Gayley is working upon an "Introduction to English Litterature," Col. Edwards upon a geometry: Prof. Morrill is preparing an upon an "introduction to English Literature," Col. Edwards upon a geometry, Prof. Morrill is preparing an edition of Lucretius, and Prof. Clapp is working on the twenty-second book of the Iliad. These gentlemen have an excellent place in which to pursue their labors, the University library of 66,465 volumes—by far the largest and best reference library on the Coast. Prof. Bernard Moses, the world's greatest authority on Spanish-American history, is in Mexico, making a careful study of the political institutions of our sister republic.

A recent addition to the teaching force of the University is John Fryer, LL.D., who has been appointed to fill the Tompkins professorship of Oriental languages. In these days of close business connection with China and Japan, this new department is one of great practical value, and Mr. Fryer is eminently qualified for the work.

University is of both scientific and economic importance, especially on account of its services in introducing new plants of value to mankind and on account of the information is spreads abroad as to scientific farming, of ways to cure plant diseases and fight insect pests and so on. At the next Mechanics' Fair in San Francisco there will be a display of plants and grains grown on the University grounds. This will include an exhibit of forage and fiber plants, of sugar beets and, possibly, of tobacco. Prof. Hilgard is experimenting with a large number of tobacco plants of almost every variety known. The climate seems to exactly suit the weed, and it may be that California will yet become the greatest tobacco-producing State of the Union.

The members and friends of the Jonathan Club will be entertained this evening in the club rooms, with a musical programme, participated in by Prof. D. E. Wagner, Wemser, the artist on the zither, the Spanish Quintette, and Charles D. Ward, the pianist.

neid an inquest over the remains of the venerable Dr. Ephriam C. Knight, who was killed by a runaway team at Long Beach Thursday. The old gentleman's skull was fractured, he had several ribs broken and was injured internally. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death. Dr. Knight's body was brought to the city for interment. His funeral will occur from the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, East Los Angeles, at 10 a.m., today, the interment to be at Pasadena.

The body of young Samuel Cohn, only son of Kaspare Cohn, who was killed by being thrown off a horse near the Soldiers' Home Thursday evening, was brought to the city yesterday, and Coroner Campbell held an inquest in the evening, the jury rendering a verdict of accidental death. The boy was out for a horseback ride with a party of young friends, when the horse shied, throwing him violently to the ground. He struck on his head, sustaining a cerebral hemorrhage, which proved fatal in a few hours.

BANNING COMPANY, Importers.

There continues to be much discussion among dealers and growers in regard to the marketing of last season's orange crop and the prospect for the next season. Barnett Bros., who are wholesale dealers of fruits and produce in Chicago, and who probably handle as many oranges as any of the firms in that place, have given their opinion in regard to the orange situation in reply to inquiries from a num ber of growers. Reviewing the past season, Barnett Bros. show that last fall-1894-Florida produced the great est crop of oranges in her history, variously estimated at 5,000,000 to 6,000,00 boxes. About one-half this amount was marketed by January 1, 1895, fully supplying the demand. That was rather better than the average, on account of a short apple crop throughout the northern part of the country, and shortage fully offset the weakness which the financial depression would naturally produce. In other words, one offset the other, and the Florida orange growers received from the portion of their crop marketed up to January 1 full commercial value—all that could be expected under normal conditions and

On the night of December 1 a killing freeze ruined the oranges left on the trees. A special freight rate was secured for a short time, and a large quantity of this frozen fruit was hastily gathered and forwarded, and completely glutted every market for the following thirty days, and some re mained until the 1st of March.

After the first two weeks the consur ers found these frozen oranges unpalat able and stopped using them, and hold ers were forced to accept exceedingly low prices for the fruit, often less tha

About the middle of January, 1895, severe cold area developed and hung persistently over the country, preventing in a great measure the moving of per goods and adding to the gen eral depression. Points away from centers could not obtain supplies, and thus consumption, even of what was good was curtailed.

About the first of February California commenced to move her crop of about 2,000,000 boxes and was met with the conditions above mentioned, with the result of a piling up of the supplies in the main market and a consequent scarcity of orders.

No sooner was there a movem discerned than the price was marked up, but dealers resolved on a conservative policy, as they had no money to throw away. No sooner was there a slight movement or demand in any market than it was immediately swamped by heavy shipments and th trade loaded up at a fearful loss to those who bought.

All through the season this fact has been apparent. The country is poor, so far as the consumption of crange. semi-luxury-is concerned. Bread, potatoes and meat the people must have. Oranges are not a necessity, and there is no special strength in the market for Coal, iron, wheat, and cotton, the great staples, were at their lowest points, almost, during February and March, showing that the business world was poor. High prices could not be expected and could not be obtained. The fruk could be moved only at low prices, and much fruit was lost by decay, but the main causes of the low prices are noted above-frozen orange, cold weather and the business depression.

Proceeding, Barnett Bros. say:

"Now, as to the second question, what of the future of the orange industry, as far as California is concerned? We must bear in mind the conditions enumerated as the cause for the low prices, and remember that the country during the last sixty days shows marked symptoms of a general revival of business. Cotton, iron and wheat have materially advanced in prices, and they carry with them immense industries that will surely bring prosperity. The general gain to the whole country is now about 20 per cent. as compared with last year's figures, and this gain is conceded by all to be permanent. There is no inflation anywhere, so that we may reasonably conclude that there is an advance on a solid basis, and there are good grounds for believing this advance will be held. While the improvement comes too late to benefit the crop of 1894 and 1895, it is reasonable to suppose that the country can afford to pay 10 to 15 per cent. higher prices for oranges next year than this, or to use 25 per cent. more at the same price. If the wages of February, 1894, barely supplied the necessaries, the 10 to 20 per cent, advance there has been secured since will enable the consumer to purchase oranges next year when he could not afford to buy any Proceeding, Barnett Bros. say:

"The greatest element, however, is the practically total destruction of the orange crop and trees of Florida. The later freezing of the 8th of February not only wiped out the prospect of the crop for the current year, but also killed the trees in the greater part of the State.

"The most liberal estimate we have heard of the next year's crop of Flor-ida truit is less than 200,000 boxes— scarcely enough for her own consump-tion, or one-thirtieth of last year's supscarcely enough for her own consumption, or one-thirtieth of last year's supply. In other words, the country, instead of depending on Florida for fruit, must look elsewhere for fruit. The supply will be barely enough for a taste, and the country, as a whole, will be hungry for oranges when California is ready to send in her supply. When three-fourths of the total crop is cut off there is surely a good prospect for the other/fourth. There will be no glutted markets, no satiated appetites, no frozen stock in the near future, and good fruit will surely command good prices. And these conditions will prevail until Florida can grow more trees. "Do not think for a moment that the fruit-growers of Florida are sitting down doing nothing. They have cut down their trees and pruned close to the ground. If they can save the toots of their largest trees the growth will be vogorous, and from these few, comparatively old, trees some oranges will come in three or four years. But we understand all young, visorous trees, those that have just come into bearing, and rounger, are entirely wheel out, leaving only the stumps of the largest trees showing any vitality."

we do not forget Louisiana and the West India supplies, and the fruit, but they cannot supply enough to change the calculation.

"While we do not think the price will while we do not think the price will be enormously high, we believe the fu-ture will show a demand for the Cali-fornia product that will satisfy every reasonable man, and bring prosperity to the orange-growers of California."

In the dried-fruit market the outlook for growers has been somewhat im proved. A majority of the growers have come to the conclusion that the market for dried fruits is destined to improve later on, and only those who are not in a position to hold their crops are showing any inclination to do so.

The necessity for a strong co-opera tive association has been forced upon the raisin-growers of late, and there is another movement among the raisin men of Fresno to form a protective as sociation that will protect. A consider able amount of criticism has been aroused in San Francisco by a statement accredited to one of the growers that the only way - create a good mar ket for raisins was to freeze out the smaller growers. This statement has naturally created a considerable amount of adverse comment on the part of some of the papers in San Francisco as it is directly in opposition to the most intelligent ideas of what California needs, namely, small farms and plenty of them. The author of the statement has come out with a card in which he says that he was misrepre ented; that what he meant to say was that there could be no hope for the raisin-growers as long as there were so many absentee owners, both small and large, who were either unable or unwilling to hold their crop for a good mar

The British Consul in San Francisco has been sending to his government a very gloomy account of the fruit and outlook in this State. He shows that last year the price of wheat was so low that the returns were in many cases below the cost of production and says that a similar condition of affairs prevails in the fruit trade. The Consul predicts further disasters to growers as the area of land planted to fruit increases.

The British Consul has evidently fallen into the mistake that has been made by so many people in California during the past twenty-five years, namely, that to lack of proper facilities for marketthing as a permanent overdoing of the market. It is difficult to have patience with those who persist in taking so narrow and short-sighted view of this situation. For poor fruit the market is already overdone, but the time is far distant and will probably never arrive when California is able to permanently glut the market.

The market for general produce has been firmer in Los Angeles during the past week and the demand for most products has been encouraging.

Chestnuts.

One of the trees that has been almos entirely neglected by horticulturists in this section is the chestnut, yet there is plenty of money to be made in growing this profitable nut. On San Pedro street, just outside the city limits, there is a grove of chestnut trees which at tracts the attention of all who pass tha tracts the attention of all who pass that way. It is right on the line of the Southern Pacific to Santa Monica. There are at present about four acres of this grove. There were formerly six acres, but two acres have been cut up. The trees, which are believed to be forty years old, are magnificent specimens, on the average, the branches of each tree-covering a space of ground twenty feet square. The crop has averaged to pay, might reject the car, saying-it was not up to grade, if it arrived on a falling market. Oranges cannot be kept and samples cannot be held to afford proofs for a legal testing of claims. Southern Pacific to Santa Monica There are at present about four acres of this grove. There were formerly six The trees, which are believed to be twenty feet square. The crop has ayer aground the square and the square are aged about four thousand pounds of nuts, which Mr. Boettcher sells in San Francisco. At the openig of the seaton, the price received is about 18 cents per pound, which runs down sometimes a sells his oranges. B buys them a sells his oranges. B buys them eraged about four thousand pounds Francisco. At the openig of the season, the price received is about 18 cents per pound, which runs down sometimes to about 10 cents, but averaging not less than 15 cents. This gives about $600 for the yield of four acres, and the trees are planted very widely.

There is no other grove of chestnut trees as large as this in Southern California, or perhaps in the State which is remarkable when it is considered how profitable the nut is, and how little trouble it is to raise it. The chestnut tree attains a great age. An Eastern contemporary has the following in re-gard to a chestnut tree in England which is supposed to be over a thousand plete. It may cover freight on fruit also. In short, land transportation insurance will establish a link or bond of confidence of the said that the largest chestnut tree known in the world is at Mt. Etna, in Sicily, but one of the oldest and most remarkable trees in Great Britain is a chestnut tree at Tortworth, the residence of the Earl of Ducle, near Bristol. In the reign of Stephen, who as conding to the Naturalists' Journal, deemed so remarkable for its size that, as appears upon record, it was well-known as a signal boundary to the Manor of Tortworth. It seems probable that this tree is a thousand years old at least. It is still in very fair vigor, and last year produced a large crop of nuts. It measures nearly fifty feet in circumference; the body is short-only about ten feet in height—and it then divides into three huge trunks, one of which measures nearly fifty feet in girth."

Some of the horticulturists in this section who are thinking of adding to the varieties of fruit which they raise should try an acre or two of chestnut trees. There are two principal varieties on the market, the Italian and Spanish, the latter being much larger than the other.

In the southern part of Europe the chestnut forms an important article of food. It is not only roasted and eaten in that shape, but is ground up and made into flour. In some portions of Italy the chief diet of the working classes is composed of chestnuts, and when the crop fails there is suffering among them.

Land Transportation Insurance.

The Times has frequently called at-

Land Transportation Insurance.

The Times has frequently called attention to the fact that the time has arrived in the horticultural industry of Southern California when the profitable marketing of the crop has become of aven greater importance than the raising of fine fruit. We have reached the point where the art of raising fruit and which attack the orchards has been fairly well mastered, although, course, there is always something learn even in those directions. In the line of packing fruit, while perfection has not yet been attained, the California fruit-growers have, according to the testimony of Eastern dealers, come very near to it. It is in the marketing of the fruit crop that we have still so much to learn. There is far too much haphazard in the fruit industry, When the grower sends off a carload of fine fruit he frequently remains in doubt up to the time when he receives his remittance whether he will get a expenses or whether he may perhaps be brought out in debt to the dealers at the other end.

One of the most original suggestion of a plan to facilitate the marketing of California fruits and place the industry on a more solid foundation is one which comes from Mrs. H. W. R. Strong of Whittier, a most intelligent and enterprising lady, who has shown that a wo Mrs. Strong's suggestion is given below in her own language: not enough that products are abundar and markets ready and transportation provided. There is something required common ground upon which stand, where all interests are harmon zed as the sunshine harmonizes th bright colorings of nature. This, would suggest, can be found in land transportation insurance, which should be formulated to combine the requisite features of ocean transportation and be formulated to combine the requisite features of ocean transportation and personal accident insurance.

"Business men have said that if orange-growers would only organise they could, by combining, market their fruit. They did organize and now at the close of the season there are 3000 carloads of oranges in Southern California spoiling on the trees. In some particulars this is the severest blow yet dealt to the realty of our special locality, for it takes from the market all the orange land that prospective settlers would buy if there were a market for that class of fruit.

"The fancy navels are mostly sold, but the great bulk of oranges are not fancy, any more than any other line of goods. The industry was developed through the seedling, which is, no doubt, today the most delicate orange raised, where it is grown under favorable circumstances. The industry was sacrificed—it is idle to speculate upon theories as to what or by whom. '1.12 facts must be met by a remedy. Either the present owners will fail and their lands pass to a class of owners able to meet all combinations, or business methods must be infused at once into the disabled conditions and health and wealth be assisted to actual being. How can this be accomplished?

"At present, selling is about like this:
"A has fine fruit. B in Chicago is an honest dealer. A is honest. One has been recommended to the other. They correspond and are satisfied with the integrity of each other. A writes, "You can have my oranges at $1.25 f. 0. b. Los.

been recommended to the other. They correspond and are satisfied with the integrity of each other. A writes, 'You can have my oranges at $1.25 f. o. b. Los Angeles; wire your answer.' B wires his answer. It read, 'I will accept the fruit $2.25 here.' This is more than freight, but he is willing to offer a premium in order to transfer the settling point to his end of the line. What does that mean 2.0 Simply, when it comes to the point B does not quite feel that he ought to trust A to send his first-class fruit, and then A begins to think, 'If B does not care to trust me, he understands his business,' and very likely were he in my place he would be tricky. I will not trust him,' and so the 'trade is off.' the fruit is not sold.

"A goes to a commission man who advances boxes, picks and packs the fruit and charges 50 cents per box for this. He then makes no account of the real disposition, but returns what he says the fruit sold for and keeps 10 per cent, not only of what the fruit sold for, but 10 per cent. of the high freight rate. The grower A gets from 35 to 65 cents per box under these methods and feels injured; first, at B; second, at the commission business in general, and the orange business in particular, and openly talks of the superior advantages of alange business in particular, and openly talks of the superior advantages of alfalfa and plans cutting out his orange

"If orange-growers have no faith in the industry and business men of this community have none, we had best de-stroy the orchards. If we have no faith of our own who will believe what we

is. A sells his oranges, B buys them and every one is happy. In place of and every one is happy. In place of a high commission A pays, perhaps, $25 for his insurance. The car goes out under inspection, the railroad company gives good service and time and not a dollar is lost. A does not have to give bonds to pay the freight, the machinery of shipping is simplified and every grower can become a shipper if he is willing to take pains in preparing his fruit for market so that insurance inspectors can accept it.

"The insurance can be partial or complete. It may cover freight on fruit also. In short, land transportation insurance will establish a link or bond of confi-

"Seventh—It will renew the reputation of California, etc.
"Eighth—It will prevent the shipment of frozen and unripe fruit. Fruit not insured will find no buyers.
"Ninth—It will keep money at home that goes to Eastern commission firms.
"Tenth—It will bring into this great industry first-class business ability and methods and men.
"It will compet all producers to learn that painstaking and honest packing will alone bring them successful returns. Until all this comes, our producers will have uncertain, or no returns, and our fruit interest will languish."

LIVE STOCK

The introduction of cable cars and electric roads on city and suburban in agriculture, have greatly influenced the market for street-car and common work horses. For heavy draft horses the demand is good and is likely to continue among draymen in the cities, who have very heavy loads to move. They delight in well-muscled horses of high intelligence, weighing 1500 pounds or upwards. As irrigation works are extended, and orchards are panted, a large demand for horses and mules arises. For grading, subsoiling, etc., mules will be preferred, and for the ten and twenty-acre fruit ranches a singe horse heavy enough to draw a ten-inch plow or good-sized cultivator easily, intelligent enough to be careful about trees and vines, kind to children and suitable to hitch to a surry and take the whole family to town.

Medicines for Farm Stock. (American Cultivator.) The time was, a few years ago, when very little medicine was given to our farm animals, and they seemed to get along about as well as they do today, when there is a great deal of dosing of medicines by those who little understand their natures. We have nearly as many medicines, quack and otherwise, advertised for our farm animals as we have for the members of our families, and, judging by their numbers, they are very widely used. This indiscriminate dosing is not confined to any one class of animals. Horses are dosed for imaginary ills, chickens are given medicine for diseases and to make them grow faster and lay more eggs, hogs are dosed for cholera and other diseases, sheep for worms and ticks, cows for tuberculosis, and so on through the whole list. If our farm animals begin to cough a great many accept that as a sign that they need some cough medicine, and forthwith some quack nostrum is administered in such a way that it is a wonder the animals recover at all. (American Cultivator:) The time was

We had old-fashioned ways of doc use of much medicine, except the few simple kinds that are universally known, and I venture to say more good known, and I venture to say more good was done than by the present system. If a fine cow began to cough she was kept in the stable on rainy days, and a warm blanket tied over her chest. Probably a little outside irritant was applied, or she was given a dose of castor oil to cleanse her system. The cough treated in this simple way generally subsided. Our pigs were given the same treatment, and we rarely had hog cholera and other hog diseases that are so common today. Chicken lice, sheep ticks and skin parasites of all kinds were treated to doses of kerosene oil, and this rubbed thoroughly over the external part of the animal usually ternal part of the animal usuall brought the desired relief. But toda there are some who actually believ that by administering internal rem dies these small pests will be removed.

that by administering internal remedies these small pests will be removed.

The improvement of our stock by expert breeders has naturally induced many of them to use great precaution in looking after their health, for the loss of one fire-looking animal is quite expensive. The result of this is that all sorts of advertised remedies for diseases have been used. Farmers and breeders generally have taken up with this system of dosing the animals with medicines, and our farm stock today suffers as much from drugs as the human race. The American reople take too many drugs for their health, is the verdict of the most successful doctors. They do not wait for the physician to prescribe, but rush to the drug store on the slightest pretext, and dose themselves with various mixtures that in the end must have injurious effects upon the system.

Administering medicine to farm animals is getting to be very much like this. Stocks of medicines are learned.

Administering medicine to farm animals is retting to be very much like this. Stocks of medicines are kept on hand to be given when the animals show some slight symptoms of disease, and without the doctor's prescription they are administered freely. The veterinary surgeon is of great value at times, but medicines should be given only uron his advice. Our animals would be better off with less medicine than they receive today, and farmers should save the money they are now putting in drugs and devote it to other uses.

Chickens hatched in henhouses in hot weather are generally feeble and easily succumb to any disease. As the hens approach the moulting period their eggs contain germs with weaker vitality and many are unable to hatch. This is in part due to the rapid evaporation of moisture from the egg in hot weather. The hens that have a run out of doors and make their nests on the ground, sit and hatch full broods. The moisture of the soil checks the evaporation from the egg and thus preserves the vitality of its germ. Hens should be allowed to make nests, sit and hatch their chickens on the ground during the summer months. Chickens hatched in henhouses in Testing Eggs.

(American Cultivator:) W. B. Tegetmeler deals with the subject of egg testing in the Queen. After pointing out the desirability of setting two or three hens on the same day, and of examining the eggs at the end of a week to see which of them were fertile and which were stertle, he proceeds: Numerous instruments are edvertised under the names of ovasopes, egg testers, etc., but none of these are superior, and very few are equal to one that can be made without the elightest cost. A piece of common cardboard, such as an old book cover, should be taken and an oval hole cut in the center, not guite large enough her, and the eggs taken away one by one. These should be conveyed in a basket into a room lighted only by one lamp. The cardboard, with the dark side toward the observer, should then be held up against the lamp, and the eggs one after another should be held against the hole, and the light looked at through them. If they appear unchanged and look like a fresh egg, they are barren, and should be put to one side.

changed and look like a fresh egg, they are barren, and should be put to one side.

Those eggs with chickens in them, the only ones which will hatch, are perfectly opaque at the end of a week, except at the larger end, where the air space exists. This opacity is caused by the blood vessels, which at that period of the hatching line the shell, extending all over its interior excepting at the air space. Now, supposing that between thirty and forty eggs have been set under the three hens, and that owing to any cause a half or third of them are sterile, it will obviously be of advantage to place the fertile opaque eggs under two of the hens, and to give a fresh setting to the third. In this way the services of a broody hen are utilized, and good clutches of chickens are much more likely to be insured. The clear eggs which have been removed should not be destroyed. They are perfectly good for kitchen purposes, and if it is not wished to use them for food, they should be kept carefully to serve as the first food of the young chicken when hatched. It may be thought that this examination of the eggs is troublesome, and that it is just as well to let the hens bring out as many eggs as are fertile. This is, however, a very absurd method of reasoning. Even if the eggs are not all given to one hen, there is no use in allowing a hen to sit upon a number of barren eggs. If she breaks one near the period of hatching the contents cover the others and foul the nest, and interfere greatly with the due hatching of the chicken.

ected with beets, but perhaps no more than with any other vegetable or ce-real crop. The ground first has to be carefully plowed at least once, and to insure against a dry season, twice is advisable, once crosswise. Then it must be harrowed and rolled, when it is ready for the drill, which will plant several rows at once about fifteen inches apart. When these come up they have to be thinned, leaving one only in every eight or ten inches. This work is better done by boys and girls.

A Common Sense View,

(Gainesville Sun:) In the discussion of farming in Florida, as to whether it shall run mainly to oranges or be diversified, one thing thems to be lost sight of. There are two objects in life. The first is to live, the second is to get rich. The horse, it is universally admitted, must precede the cart. The man who farms only oranges puts his second object first—his cart before his horse. The man who diversifies his farming makes sure of at least a comfortable living. His gains are small. He raises enough to eat and a surplus. He has no prospect of a grand crop return in one big kump to sustain him in extravagances, but he has a stream of income. He makes small but numerous gains on berries, beans, potatoes, eggs, chickens, honey, etc., which in the long run amount to more than the same labor and capital can average out of the orange crop. Those who are situated to speculate in orange ventures on a large scale without affecting their means of living, will generally find it profitable and advisable to do so. But the man who must live by his work as he goes along will find it wise to diversify his crops and make orange-growing a secondary consideration.

Boarding-school Comfits.

The girls of one of our Eastern colleges have a novel method of candy-making which deserves to be known outside their magic circle-especially as the results are particularly delicious.

They take a sheet of heavy, glazed writing-paper and turn up the four edges to a depth of about three-fourths of an inch. Into this box they pour a cupful of white sugar and a very little water, and set it on top of the stove. One would think the paper would burn, but it does not. The sugar boils up charmingly and looks tempting enough in its dainty receptacle.

When it is nearly done, a drop or two of flavoring is added, or just before taking from the fire some nut meats are strewn over its surface. It is then taken off the stove and set to float in its paper box in a bowl or basin of cold water. When cold it should be brittle and then the paper can be peeled off and a dainty square of toothsome candy is the reward.

It is great fun to make and will surprise your friends if they chance to see it boiling in its paper box.

PASADENA, July 26.—(Regular Con respondence.) The adjutant-general has given to Co. B., N.G.C., permission to go into camp at Avalon, Catalina Island, August 24, and on, Catalina Island, August 24, and it is thought that Capt. Carrington of the First Infantry will be detailed to frispect the camp. It is said that popters will soon be issued for the drilling of all companies with not less than fifty men. GOT OFF EASY. Walter Everett was before Recorder Rossiter this morning, charged with attering a bogus check for $5, Ed Hob-uttering a bogus check for $5, $\text{Ed}$ Hobson being the victim. Everett pleaded guilty to the charge, but urged in extenuation the fact that he was so filled up with firewater that he thought he "had money to burn," as the saying goes, or, in other words, that he was so very drunk that he did not know what he was doing. He promised to make the amount good, and the case was, therefore set for further hearing, with the understanding that Everett should reimburse Hobson. He will probably be required to pay the court costs also, and then the case is likely to be dismissed. PAID HIS FINE.

PAID HIS FINE.

Mr. Robinson, keeper of the Saddie Rock restaurant, was released this afternoon upon the payment of the sum of $247, having spent three days in fail. Mr. Robinson requested the Recorder to furnish him with copies of the ordinance that he might post them in conspicuous places, and thus evade the solicitations of the thirsty, who would treep thim to again become an offender. This suggests the wisdom of the framing of an ordinance requiring all keepers of restaurants, hotels and eating houses within the corporate limits of the town to have the liquor ordinance printed in large, plain type and posted conspicuously, in order that those who may desire liquid refreshment may know under exactly what conditions they may secure them, and that they may secure them, and that they may not incite anyone to commit a misdemeanor.

THE SCHOOLHOUSE PLANS. In support of the action of the sch the school buildings on the West Side, the residents of that portion of the town aver that many more persons will see the West-Side structure than the East, for it is located more centrally, and that far from desiring that the East Side people shall have an inferior building in any way, they would advecate the duplication of the West Side building on the East Side site, It is thought that by some alterations Mr. Buchanan's design could be made acceptable, and that as this design was made a year ago when only one school building was contemplated, that Mr. Buchanan could modify it. Some of the features to which objections are made in Mr. Buchanan's design were suggested by the trustees, and the architect conformed to their instructions.

It is said by Pasadena builders that there is a shortage of material for operations now on hand in this part of the country, and that for some unaccountable reason shipments of building material of all sorts have been delayed. Meantime the wholesale dealers in the vicinity are profiting, and so long are the consignments of such freight delayed that local builders are wondering whether it is entirely acclidental or not.

SAN DIEGO, July 26.—(Regular Correspondence.) The setting aside of the indictments of the grand jury against C. E. Judge Puterbaugh's and the District Attorney permitted this improper action. The County Clerk lost Judge Puterbaugh's order in the matter. The County Court officers failed to do in this matter what the taxpayers pay them to attend to. It now remains for the District Attorney to begin anew actions against Mayne and Weineke.

SOME EXPERT TESTIMONY.

The time of the Superior Court was again taken up today almost wholly on the Yeager vs. Southern California Railway damage case. Human skeletohs and physiological charts were brought out before the jury and in the hands of the lawyers were paraded before the jurymen's eyes, all parts of man's anatomy being so minutely explained in detail in such flowing medical and physiological terms that no ordinary individual could possibly understand more than a very small portion of what would percolate through his cranium. But it was all expert evidence, however, and was, of course, taken as such.

The evidence in this noted case will all be in now very shortly and perhaps by tomorrow (Saturday) evening the case will go to the jury for their deliberation.

At the first trial of this case the jury awarded the plaintin $2500, but Judge Towner set aside the verdict, stating that it was excessive. SOME EXPERT TESTIMONY.

THE JURY DISAGREE.

The jury in the Justice Court disagreed in the deliberations over the case of the People vs. Knute Lenning, who was arrested in Pomona last week, charged with stealing a bicycle in this city a short time ago from the hallway of the Jennings House.

The trial was had in Justice Huntington's court and, after the evidence was all in, the jury retired for deliberation about, 5 o'clock Thursday evening. At 8 o'clock they were dismissed, it appearing that there was no reasonable possibility of an agreement. It is understood that they stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal, The prisoner will quite likely have a new trial, HAULING GRAIN. DOWN IN OR-HAULING GRAIN, DOWN IN OR

The total yield on the 1100 acres will be about 17,000 sacks. These eight teams form a procession 200 yards in length, and make a decidedly interesting appearance." THE CREAMERY SITUATION AT

"Our new creamery is now completed and ready for business as soon as the company is fully incorporated. We are out of the fight here. We have our creamery, and all we have to do is to go down into our pockets and pay the bill, and if we are swindled we don't know it, and 'where ignorance is bliss it is folly to be wise;' but on one thing all will agree, and that is that we have a good creamery."

ORANGE COUNTY BREVITIES.

The Ahaheim Independent has the following paragraph in reference to a reporter on the Los Angeles Herald, who essayed to investigate a colony of vegetarians in the northern portion of this county, a week or so ago, after which he filled several columns of the paper he represented with the result of his investigations: "Our friend, W. H. McFadden of Placentia, who, according to a dimpled space writer of the Los Angeles Herald, narrowly escaped becoming a United States Senator, could be kept busy, if he cared to be, denying what he did not say to the aforesaid dimpled dunce."

Dr. Knight, who was killed at Long Beach early Thursday morning, in a runaway, was a former resident of Orange county. Dr. and Mrs. Knight lived over near Alamitos, and they have a large circle of friends throughout Orange county, who are pained to learn of the doctor's sad fate.

POMONA, July 26.-(Regular Correspondence.) The articles upon the railroad situation that appeared in these columns and the local weeklies of this city on Wednesday and Thursday aroused some of the leading men of the walley, from among the Board of Trade, City Trustees and private citizens, sufficiently to result in a meeting in the City Hall last night for a calm and dignified discussion of the situation. After the expression of various opinions as to what was just the best thing to be done, the result of the meeting was finally shaped by some of those who have been faitfully working for the general interest of Pomona as a whole community, into about this: That, recognizing th fact that fortunately for the Southern Pacific people and unfortunately for Pomona a right-of-way fully as direct (if not more so) and at possibly lower figures to the company, could be had to the north and east of this city, as the one down White avenue which is wanted, if the road comes through Pomona; and that immediate action be taken in order to secure the road, and the utmost importance for Pomona's future that it be secured, a committee of three, Trustees Hutchinson and Landon with either the City Attorney or some other attorney they may select, be authorized to notify the Southern Pacific folks that they stand ready to confer with their attorney at any time set in the City Hall of Pomona, and to this end that Division Superintendent Muir at Los Angeles be so informed by President John Wasson of the Board of Trade in person today (Friday) July 26. dence.) The articles upon the railroad situation that appeared in these the Board of Trade in person today (Friday) July 26.

The object in main of this conference, of course, between the two parties interested in this matter, is to settle upon a franchise if possible that would be granted by the city and acceptable to the company—for, if this cannot be done in the premises, there would be no use of further action in the matter. All truly interested in this important epoch in Pomona's history will await with anxlety the result of this conference, should the Southern Pacific officials see proper at this juncture to further consider the question.

REDONDO.

REDONDO, July 26.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Redondo season is now fully at its reight and has quite fulfilled the prophecy made at the beginning of the summer, that it would be one of the best ever seen here. Vacant houses and cottages are now a thing of the past and even rooms are hard to obtain. The popularity of Redondo camping beach has more than passed all expectations, it being estimated that there are fully six hundred people living in tents for the summer. The many new and pretty cottages that have been built lately by prominent Los Angeles people in the fashionable end of town now known as "Nob Hill," are all occupied, which adds greatly to the attractiveness of Redondo. FURTHER DISCUSSION OVER THE NEEDLES SCHOOL BONDS.

Downs, Accused of Attempted Rape on a Little Girl-Highland

SAN BERNARDINO, July 26.-(Regular Correspondence.) A week ago Au-ditor Diss asked an official opinion of District Attorney Daly on the matter of issuing warrants for paying the principal and interest of the Needles school issuing warrants for paying the principal and interest of the Needles school bonds, which were issued in 1890 for $20,000 to build a schoolhouse, and sold to the Cakland Bank of Savings, the heaviest taxpayer being the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, they having to pay $1100 of the $1600 annual interest, and in 1892 the company refused to pay the tax, but a temporary injunction was issued restraining the collector from deeding the property after it was sold for taxes, and it still holds good, the company still refusing to pay the tax. On demand of the bank upon Auditor Diss for the money he referred the matter to District Attorney Daley and the latter holds, in a lengthy opinion going thorough into the merits of the case, that the Auditor should issue the warrant regardless of the fact that there are no funds to meet it; thatsuch warrant regardless of the district and that the issuance of the warrant by the County Auditor and its registration by the County Treasurer, as provided by law, does not bind the county to pay either the principal or interest of school district building bonds out of any moneys except those of the building fund of the district for which the bonds were issued. The opinion of the District Attorney is very clear and conclusive.

County Clerk Diss has issued forty-five documents and put them into the hands of Sheriff Holcomb, each one of which is a summons in the matter of the sales of State school lands on which the payment of interest has became delinquent. These date back as far as the sales of State school lands on which the payment of interest has became de-linquent. These date back as far as 1886 in some cases, and will serve to furnish work for the courts for a con-siderable period when they are taken up, and the publication of the whole forty-five notices in the advertising col-umns of the paper will furnish quite interesting reading but a little monot-onous.

EXAMINATION OF DOWNS.

This afternoon the preliminary examination of Albert Downs, for attempted rape on little Annie Benninger, a girl lo years of age, is progressing before Justice Soule. The child gives her Justice Soule. The child gives her story in a straightforward manner, and should be enough to convict the prisoner of one of the most helnous crimes on the calendar. He took the girl on a bicycle in the evening to ride, and, within two blocks of her home, stopped by some bushes and coaxed her to go in there to see a rabbitt. When there he attempted to outrage her, but she escaped, and reached home in safety, where she told her story, and the man was found and arrested. There are a number of witnesses to examine, and the examination will take considerable time. It was contin-

The courtroom of Justice Knox was filled this morning on the arraignment of Charley Wells, charged with taking in June of last year, four brushes, worth $3.59, from the foundry of J. J. Hanford. A jury was summoned and the case was about to proceed; when Assistant District Attorney Spreeker, on looking at the complaint, saw that it was over a year since the act was supposed to be committed, and, therefore, outlawed by the statute of limitation, and he directed the judge to discharge the prisoner.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, July 26.—(Regular Correspondence.) D. J. Matlock, special agent of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company, arrived in the city today to make arrangements for putting in the standard telephone exchange service, which the company promised months ago, but could not carry out because of its failure to procure the necessary material. This difficulty has now been overcome, and the material to be used in the service here left San Francisco on Thursday, and it is expected that in about thirty days' time the work will be completed. The entire cost of making this change will approximate $2000. The company has about sixty subscribers in Redlands. The expense under the new system will be no less to the individual subscriber-44 per month—but two stations on the same metallic circuit, reducing the rate 25 cents, making the cost for ten stations but $1.50 for each individual. The long-distance transmitter will enable one to talk with a party in San Francisco with as much ease as a few rods away, and this means in a voice hardly above a whisper.

The First Congregational Church has the full amount subscribed for purchasing the lot adjoining the church lot on the north, and it will soon have title to this property. This gives the Congregationalists one of the finest and largest church lots in the city, the dimensions being 200 feet on Cajon street and 135 feet on Olive avenue. This does not include the parsonage lot, which adjoins the church lot on the west, and in size is 674x180 feet.

The lists have now been brought here and presented to Santa Monicans for their co-operation. The construction of this road would open the local field into the whole upper portion of the San Fernando, and could not fall to result in profit to business here. It is expected that the County Supervisors will do spmething toward carrying the project through, and those interested at the the two ends of the road must do the rest. The acquisition through good roads, of additional tributary territory to this place is a permanent acquisition, and our business men are not likely to miss a point by neglecting any reasonable opportunity of attaching the community to the local markets.

Visitors to this peerless resort are not in great danger of finding nowhere to go at present. The list of attractions is a long one, and well varied. Last evening, one of the finest audiences of the season gathered at Foresters' Hall, to see the presentation by the ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star of the farce, "Female Masonry," and were favored with a very clever programme. The plece is full of legitimate fun, and was both well dressed and set, and well acted. Only one criticism has been offered upon it, and that was that it was brief. But as concert performance the remaining hours till midnight, in which the chivalry and beauty of the place participated, no serious objection will lie along that their work has been financially well rewarded, as well as proving otherwise satisfactory.

At the Spiritualists' camp meeting the evening was occupied, for the most part, by a concert programme by James G. Clarke, the poet-musician. The tent was, as usual, crowded, and, in addition to the musical features, there were tests of various sorts, demonstrating the psychic powers of the talent.

Monday, August 5, is the date for voting for or against the special tax for building the proposed South Side schoolhouse. The amount asked is $1500, and the need of the building is unquestioned. As already shown, the levy of this tax will leave the expenditures for the district for the year to come at least $1000 less than those for the year past, and if the tax is defeated it will reduce the aggregate by that additional amount. The question for the voters to determine is whether or not the district can afford that sort of economy.

STIPULATION FILED.

Stipulations were filed yesterday in the case of the First National Bank of Los Angeles vs. the Riverside Banking Company of Riverside, in which judgment for $30,124.40 was recently given for the plaintiff, and in which John G. North was appointed commissioner, which acts practically as a stay, of execution of the order of the court under the foreclosure of June 25, 1895. The terms of the stipulation are as follows:

"Whereas, the Riverside Banking Company has this day paid to the First National Bank of Los Angeles the sum of $5000, and in consideration thereof the said bank has delivered to the Pacific Bank (of San Francisco) for the said Riverside Banking Company all of the promissory notes described in said decree, and by said North advertised to be sold under said writ of enforcement. Now, therefore, it is hereby stipulated and agreed that said John G. North return said writ of enforcement to said court without making a sale of the real property therein described; that the said sum of $5000 so paid be credited upon the amount due up to the time of making said return, and that the return of said commissioner show the amount still due under said writ after crediting the $5000. It is further stipulated that no further or other writ of enforcement issue in said action for the period of ninety days from the 25th day of July, 1895, and that when the same does issue that there be sold thereunder only the real estate in said described."

Hard usage makes straws look very ready for retirement. Don't delay donning a new straw until its time for them to be beheaded, so to speak, but go to Desmond's, in the Bryson Block, and be strawed now, when he is selling all straw hats at the biggest kind of reduction. Summer underwear, hosiery, neckwear, suspenders, etc., etc., are now on Desmond's active list, and his list (of prices) is wonderfully attractive. Why do without what you need, when it costs only a trifle to get it? There's an end to price-cuts, and Desmond's reached it in his figures for summer requisites, in selling regular $1.25 and $1.50 shirts for $1; $1.50 straw hats for 75 cents, etc., etc. It's like hats for 75 cents, etc., etc. It's like waiting for Christmas in January to look for anything approaching these temptations this season. A heavy swell is a little risky over at Catalina, but it's not at all so in business. There's the biggest kind of a swell in trade at Desmond's in the Bryson Block this week; it's sweeping everything before it, and buyers are realizing handsomely on their purchases. It's hard to realize how Desmond can offer such tempting bargains, but they're going all the same. Desmond's special bargains in shirts, underwear, hosiery and men's and boys' straw hats for today is a hummer, and will create a hum and bustle of buyers in his store all day long. Make the bargain hay while the sun shines, and secure some of Desmond's prizes, which are just about as far beyond the reach of competition as the moon is out of the range of a rifie shot.
